

Brimberry case nears conclusion—at last

The stock brokerage collapse involving Thomas R. Brimberry of Granite City occurred in the autumn of 1981 and the investigation still has not reached its conclusion as the autumn of 1982 draws near.

But, at long last, formal charges are to be filed soon. A final review of the complex case is being conducted by the Tax Division of the U.S. Department of Justice in Washington.

The brokerage firm was ordered permanently closed after securities totaling $36 million were found to be missing Nov. 5. The Securities Investor Protection Corp. since then has paid out more than $27 million to retire bank loans and cover customer accounts—the largest payout in SIPC history.

Known for a lifestyle of conspicuous consumption, Brimberry was being questioned regarding his federal income taxes when he divulged to federal authorities in the East St. Louis district how stock fraud was utilized to loot the Stix & Co. Inc. brokerage in St. Louis.

He had risen from clerical duties there to senior vice-president in charge of operations.

Nothing but Brimberry has agreed to plead to a single tax felony, court records show; the potential penalty would be three years in prison and a $5,000 fine. He has been out of the public's sight since the brokerage house was visited by investigators.

Records disclose Brimberry has sought to implicate James J. Massa, Jerry S. Maeras, Arthur J. Miller Jr. and Frederic A. Arnstein Jr. All have denied wrongful acts.

Arnstein, Stix president, has been cleared of any criminal allegations but may become a target of civil litigation; he has resumed working, for another company.

Some Stix accounts were in the names of Massa, Maeras and Miller, with or without their knowledge, authorities say.

Miller is Brimberry's brother-in-law. Maeras is a longtime local businessman and former township official, son of the late Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras.

Brimberry's rise to a prominent position at the brokerage occurred about the time that Massa, a Collinsville attorney, acquired majority ownership of the firm.

The securities investor protection corporation, making good on many of the accounts that were looted, is said to have paid $15,200,000 to Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago, $748,000 to Center Bank of St. Louis, $682,000 to Boatmen's National Bank of St. Louis and $450,000 to Irving Trust of New York.

In addition, $10 million was paid to the brokerage firm of Bache Halsey Stuart Shields Inc. to satisfy customer credit balances. More than 4,000 accounts were transferred from Stix to Bache under arrangements made by Harry O. Moline Jr., court-appointed trustee.

Moline has recovered $8,500,000 in securities owed Stix and $1,200,000 in cash from Stix certificates of deposit in 12 banks.

The trustee sold Arnstein's seat on the Midwest Stock Exchange for $16,000.

Net loss is estimated at $14 million. Moline has moved to tie up Brimberry's assets and property, including a

Ban on look-alike drugs

Newly-signed law enforcement legislation includes a bill banning "look-alike" drugs in Illinois.

"The misrepresentation of drugs presents a danger. It poses serious health hazards and causes reactions that the user is unprepared for," Gov. James R. Thompson said in signing the new laws.

"It's a problem that has claimed the lives of too many people, especially young people," he said.

House Bill 2079 bans the manufacture, advertising, possession and distribution of a non-controlled substance represented to be a controlled substance.

"Look-alike" drugs promote the acceptance of drug abuse, especially among young people, the governor said, and can greatly harm persons who inject or ingest the drugs in a manner similar to real substance.

"This law gives law enforcement officials an added tool in fighting drug trafficking," he said. "And it contains a provision that will double the maximum sentence for someone convicted of selling look-alike drugs to a person under the age of 18 when that seller is at least two years older than the buyer."

The governor also:

—Approved Senate Bill 1231, which requires that 15- and 16-year-old juveniles charged with murder, rape or armed robbery be tried in adult rather than juvenile court.

The bill, which takes effect immediately, also eliminates a provision in the Juvenile Court Act that prohibited minors 16 and younger from being confined in police cells after arrest.

—Signed Senate Bill 1500, transferring juvenile justice and delinquency prevention services from the Law Enforcement Commission to the Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS).

GC studies central buying

The practice of staying with tried or familiar supply vendors and service providers appears to be drawing to a close in Granite City.

After arguing the pros and cons of the present "mixed" system of sometimes "shopping around" and sometimes choosing "old reliable" suppliers, the aldermanic finance committee has given an informal go-ahead for a centralized purchasing system for the city.

Aldermen are now reviewing a list of the types of services that would be up for competitive bids under such a program. City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic has given a similar list to department heads for their ideas and input.

Among the service, material and equipment purchases that may be sent out for an annual, prior-reviewed bid are: vehicle towing, automotive repair, office supplies, lighting fixtures and lamps, electrical repair, lumber supplies and accounting and auditing services.

"We talked about it before," Seventh Ward Alderman Michael Modrusis said. "But it was never approved."

Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur, finance committee member, is now conducting a survey to determine the exact needs at the various city buildings.

According to Miklovic, some items have not been bid for several years.

Second Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, a finance committee member, gave an explanation at a recent finance session. He said one reason items have not been sought on certain items is "poor performance" by some low bidders after their proposals were accepted.

The city must obtain competitive bids on any item, other than professional services. (Continued on Page 5)

Stack retires, Sambuchi is GC Steel manager

EDWARD SAMBUCHI

JAMES V. STACK

Robert D. McBride, executive vice-president for operations of National Steel Corporation's Steel Group, announced two appointments on Friday, effective immediately, at the Granite City Steel Division.

Edward L. Sambuchi, previously vice-president for operations at GCS, was appointed vice-president and general manager of the Granite City Steel Division. He succeeds James V. Stack, who has retired.

William D. Swanson, previously director of quality assurance and technology for the Steel Group, has been appointed vice president of Operations, GCS, succeeding Sambuchi.

Stack had been GCS president since early 1977, coming to Granite City from the presidency of National's Midwest Steel Division, Portage, Ind. He had served at that division for 18 years.

"We appreciate the contributions Jim Stack made for National Steel," McBride said. "Under his direction, Granite City Steel has continued to establish itself as one of the most advanced steel plants in the world, and we wish him well."

Sambuchi's career with National Steel began at the Great Lakes Steel Division, near Detroit, Mich., in 1958. He held various positions there, including manager of maintenance and assistant general plant superintendent.

Prior to coming to GCS in January, Sambuchi was assistant to McBride, who was then president of the Great Lakes Steel Division.

Sambuchi is a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., where he received a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.

Swanson joined National Steel in 1960

as a project engineer at the Stran-Steel Division.

He joined the National Steel Research Center as a research engineer in 1969. Swanson was appointed division metallurgist at the Granite City Steel Division in 1974 and advanced through a variety of quality control and operations positions before being appointed general superintendent. State may test for 'subtle' lead poisoning

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

of the Press-Record

State health employees are sifting through three years of local childhood lead poisoning test results to determine if a much broader blood lead level survey is warranted here.

Any future tests will be aimed at detecting a more subtle type of lead accumulation in body soft tissue parts that could impair intelligence.

The records now under scrutiny were originally compiled by Illinois Department of Health Childhood Lead Poisoning Control workers at the Granite City office, opened in 1979 on the heels of confirmed lead poisoning cases.

Suspected lead control problems here, however, date back a decade, to state's 1972 area lead tests identifying affected children, and a criticized 1977 unofficial dust and soil lead analysis prepared by two young technicians. One of those young men, David Nolan, now the city's director of parks and recreation, said he was rebuffed when he urged further government-sanctioned study. He was then a technician in the Granite City Engineering Department.

In 1979, the van returned and found positive results in three percent of the 125 children in Madison and Venice and 4.7 percent of 210 tested Granite City children.

From among all those tested during the two-year period, however, only two, in 1979, were determined to require immediate medical attention due to toxic levels of lead in their blood.

Meanwhile, preliminary research findings raised questions about the safety of lower, but still elevated, lead blood levels. If the state decides to conduct general all-ages lead testing here, it will be to determine if an elevated blood lead level exists in Granite City.

"We're now trying to plot blood lead levels according to residency to see if we can detect significant patterns," Gary Johnson, Springfield administrator of the Childhood Lead Poisoning Control Program, said in an interview last week.

The study is being taken after Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) recently approached the state health department, seeking an investigation into lead poisoning found in the Granite City area.

The EP (erythrocyte protoporphyrin) test the state center administers to children suspected of eating lead-based paint is intended to detect chronic lead levels, not the more subtle form questioned now, Johnson said.

According to IEPA's 1981 annual

Air quality optimism is 'premature?'

Every six days — once daily at Granite City Fire House No. 2 — air monitors kick on throughout the city pulling in concentrated air flows for 24 hours, roughly equal to the amount a resident breathes in a month.

While the state follows a "trend toward cleaner air," as reported in an Illinois Environmental Protection Agency press release, state examinations of the typing papered fiberglass filters reveal, since 1969, none of the concentrated "breath of air" samples were within the annual average health standards for airborne particulates.

Granite City's distinction comes in the form of the highest annual par-

State commission hears support for road tax

By JUDY TAPLIN
A state commission on transportation problems found support for higher taxes for an ailing road system when it held a hearing in Collinsville last week.

And, if it didn't already know, it learned that roads in Madison County are in bad shape and that there isn't enough money to fix them. A "hoosier" bridge over Silver Creek costs the Livingston school district an extra $1,300 a year because school buses are forced to back-track, Harold Briggs, Madison County superintendent of schools told the commission.

He said there were similar problems in many other parts of the county. Lester Miller, Madison County highway superintendent, said many roads and bridges in the county are obsolete.

The hearing, conducted by the Illinois Transportation Study Commission, was held at the Holiday Inn. Its chairman was Sen. Sam Vadalabene, Edwardsville.

Other commission members present were Rep. Celeste Stiehl, Belleville; and two public members, Joseph Azzarelli, Kankakee, and Walter Ship of Centralia.

Fifteen similar hearings are being conducted around the state in September. Only two — in Collinsville and Harrisburg — are in Southern Illinois.

The purpose of the sessions is to learn how the public feels about the state's highway and transit needs.

According to Vadalabene, the commission also wants to find out whether the public will accept a tax increase to support the highway system. He said the public's input would be presented to the General Assembly.

In recent years, we haven't been spending enough on highways and our mass transit systems are in trouble," Vadalabene told those in the audience.

Mayor Gene Brombolich, speaking for the city of Collinsville and for an area mayors' group, said an increase in the state gasoline tax is needed. He also urged a restructuring of the way motor fuel tax funds are allotted.

He asked that motor fuel tax be based on gas prices, rather than gallons consumed, because consumption has declined, with a negative effect on the amount of motor fuel tax received by communities.

Brombolich said it made "no economic sense" for the state to have spent hundreds of millions of dollars on highways — Interstate 255 included — that are still not usable and whose completion dates "are now anyone's guess."

He said three area highway projects — 409 from O'Fallon to Carlyle, 143 in Wood River and I-255 — would put the area's labor force to work and would bring economic growth.

"I see the message from the local community loud and clear: 'Put some of my unemployed to work, and give me the opportunity to grow,'" Brombolich said.

Dean Turner of the Southern Illinois Building and Construction Trades Council said a strong road program would put to work 50 percent of the 8,500 persons represented by his group.

He said his group would back a tax increase for highways.

Dan Ellis, of Local 520 of the Operating Engineers, said, "We do need a gas tax (increase). Our membership will support it."

Nameki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said his township's biggest expense is trying to maintain roads. He said it costs $6,516 to oil and chip one mile, and would total $280,000 to do all the roads in the township.

Nameki gets much less than this — $182,000 — in tax money, he said.

They, Georgeff, Montgomery County highway superintendent, said new taxes should be paid by the persons who use the roads.

He said he would like to see legislation which allows an increase in local level taxes for roads and bridges.

He also said new road materials should be studied.

Georgeff said he has spent 12 years developing a road base product, Pozzolanic, made of fly ash and wet-bottom boiler slag. It was used successfully to build one road in his county in 1976.

He said new road products currently receive "a lot of political pressure from people running scared."

Legislation aids Illinois farmers

Legislation that will allow farmers to vote on whether to use a portion of their corn crop sales for an Illinois corn marketing program has been signed into law by Governor James R. Thompson.

"Illinois agricultural products have long led the nation in overall production, a fact supported by our not ranking among exporting states in the country," the Governor said. "What this bill will do is give Illinois farmers the opportunity to further expand their foreign and domestic markets."

Under Senate Bill 122, corn producers in Illinois can vote this fall in a referendum conducted by the Illinois Corn Growers Association on whether to use a quarter-per-bushel of their crop earnings to fund a corn marketing program. A majority vote is needed for ratification.

A similar vote was held in 1980 and failed to gain the necessary votes. That vote included a proposal that would have allowed the per-bushel assessment level to be increased without a vote.

In order for a referendum to be held this fall, 2,500 signatures of corn growers must be gathered. At least 10 signers from a minimum of 50 counties must be included in the petition drive and the signatures must be presented to the state Agriculture Department Director.

The bill was sponsored by Senator John Maitland of Bloomington and Representative Gordon Ropp of Normal. It is effective immediately.

In other legislative action, Thompson announced Friday he has:

Approved Senate Bill 1447, a measure that gives homeowners more time to prevent foreclosure in the homes.

The bill provides a six-month redemption period for mortgage, lien and trust deed foreclosures, a provision that was eliminated under previous legislation.

The bill was sponsored by Senator Frank Ozinga of Chicago and Representative Sam Vinson of Clinton and is effective immediately.

Signed Senate Bill 1371, which extends the Mississippi River Parkway Commission of Illinois. The Commission, originally formed on an interim basis, advises several state agencies on projects with the federal Great River Road Program.

The bill, which takes effect immediately, was sponsored by Senator Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville and Representative Jeffery Mays of Quincy.

Approved House Bill 2278, a measure that clarifies previous legislation calling for the lifting of interest rate ceilings on mortgage loans for residential real estate. Because of the word "residential" in previous legislation, non-residential property could have been subject to interest rate ceilings. H.B. 2278 removes that portion of the law.

The bill was sponsored by Representative John Leon and Senator Glen Dawson, both of Chicago. It is effective immediately.

WARRANT ARREST

Corinne A. Converse, 45, of 2015 Washington Ave., was arrested there on a warrant alleging failure to pay the fine on a theft charge. She was released a short time later on payment of a $117 cash bond.

Aid families of reckless homicide victims

Springfield, Ill. — Governor James R. Thompson announces that he has signed legislation that will help families of reckless homicide victims.

"Tragic and reckless deaths from wanton crime leave families devastated and their loss," the governor said. "By providing them with a means of applying for some compensation in several categories, including murder, kidnapping, assault and battery. The current compensation limit under the law is $10,000."

Senate Bill 1590, which amends the Illinois Crime Victims Compensation Act, raises the compensation limit for victims or their families to $15,000 in several categories, including murder, kidnapping, assault and battery. The current compensation limit under the law is $10,000.

The bill, which will go into effect Jan. 1, 1983, was sponsored by Senators Richard Walsh of River Forest and Vince DeMuzio of Carlinville, and Representatives Roger McAuliffe of Chicago and Judy Koehler of Henry.

Also acted on by Thompson were bills including:

Senate Bill 1291, a measure the governor signed that outlines procedures for the governor or his representative to take action when nuclear waste agreements are made between Illinois and another state.

The bill, sponsored by Senator Jerome Joyce of Bradley and Representative Ray Christensen of Morris, sets out agreements made by the governor will not be valid unless they're approved by the General Assembly. The bill is effective Jan. 30, 1983.

"Due to the long-term risks associated with radioactive substances and the great public interest in governmental decisions concerning nuclear waste, I believe it is wise and good public policy for the General Assembly to share decision-making with the Executive Branch," the governor said in a signing message.

The measure goes into effect immediately.

Senate Bill 2283, which provides that fraternal organizations can receive contributions of up to $50,000 before they must file certified annual reports with the Attorney General.

Presently, fraternal organizations must file with the state for contributions of more than $25,000.

The measure, which takes effect immediately, was sponsored by Representative LeRoy Van Dyne of Joliet and Senator George Sangmeister of Mokena.

House Bill 1998, a bill the governor approved that requires vehicles used to transport senior citizens be inspected by the Department of Transportation. The bill also says that vehicles used to transport 12 or more senior citizens must have signs on both sides indicating that the vehicle is used for the elderly.

The legislation was sponsored by Representative Josephine Oblinger of Sherman and Senator John Davidson of Springfield. It takes effect immediately.

St. John will mark 120 years on Nov. 6, 7

This year marks the 120th anniversary of St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, the oldest congregation in Granite City which continues to worship on its original site.

Once a small "country church," St. John has through the last century come to be a key member of the religious and social community, ministering to thousands of Quad-Cityans through wars, epidemics and depressions. Its building is regarded as one of the local landmarks.

To celebrate the anniversary, the weekend of Nov. 6 and 7 has been designated as "Anniversary Weekend."

Highlighting the celebration will be a confirmation reunion to be held at the Granite City Township Building on Saturday evening, Nov. 6, according to Steven Suess, reunion chairman.

More than 1,000 invitations representing confirmation classes from 1896 to 1982 have been mailed by the reunion committee.

The committee is currently trying to locate 90 confirmands whose addresses are unknown.

Those who can help in locating any of the following may call: John Rellike (831-1529), Steven Suess (876-2236), Mrs. Dennis Sturman (877-6980), Mrs. Ray Wille (877-0459), Mrs. Charles Zeugin (877-2875) or the church office (877-6060) as soon as possible.

The dates used are the years in which the persons were confirmed. Most of the women's names are their maiden names.

Those sought from the 1903 class are: John Helmer, Henry Kell, Marie Schreiber and Louise Helmer.

1907 — Sophia Burghoff, Louise Finke and Louisa Wilhelmina Schreiber.

1917 — Walter H. Kasting, 1919 — Leola Luehrer (Mrs. H. O. Smith).

1920 — Verna Dietz.

1929 — Dorothy A. M. Hoehn.

1930 — Edna Katharine Schiber Jackson.

1931 — Bernice Anna Lee Hildebrand (Mrs. Charles Hackelbach).

1935 — Edna Mae Gerkin, Mildred Elizabeth Gerkin, Louise Kathryn Buehrer, Evelyn Alice Hegel and Maureen Cecil Link.

1936 — Bryne Jennings Reynolds, Gloria Patricia Reynolds and Mabel Pauline Gerkin.

1937 — Mary Ann Miller Guehan.

1938 — Arthur David Hoffman, Bernice Hilda Theurer and Oliver Wayne Ziegler.

1941 — Ruth Dorothea Reynolds.

1942 — Richard Earl Converse.

1943 — Frances Jeanne Daniel.

1946 — Neva Mae Bishop and Louise Jeannine Greive.

1948 — Jerry Allen Miller and Charles Robert Smith.

1954 — Charlene Louise Brown and Paul Edward Appenbrink.

1956 — Sharon Petroff.

1957 — Eldon Pote, Judith Sharon Polite and Marsha Jean Hogan.

1959 — Joanne Ficken, Terry Hart, Kathleen Poole, Robert Vessas and Slavko Kunschek.

1961 — Karen Green and Linda Grammann.

1962 — Ralph Schmid, Lynn Sneed and Diana Tadlock.

1963 — Carol Feig and James Little.

Illinois and China are sister states

The Province of Liaoning on mainland China has entered into a sister-state relationship with Illinois.

As the governor greeted a Chinese group in Chicago, he pledged full cooperation between his administration and the government of Koonang, a leading agricultural and industrial province of the People's Republic of China. It is in northeast China.

Liaoning is the top Chinese province in production of heavy machinery. It manufactures 25 percent of all Chinese iron and steel. Expanded trade is being predicted.

Twenty Illinois firms and organizations, including SIUE, have established contact with Liaoning officials in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), and the agreement between Illinois and Liaoning is expected to lead to new ventures.

A document confirming "friendly relations" between the two states was signed by DCCA director Peter B. Fox.

"We know from the experience of other states that these accords can lead to substantial increases in mutual benefits because the agreement itself often prompts increases in economic, commercial, cultural and academic expansion between partners," he said.

AARP enrolls nine members

Granite City Chapter 1340 of the American Association of Retired Persons held the first fall meeting last week at the Township Hall with President Ruth Allen presiding. After the opening prayer and pledge of allegiance she welcomed members and guests.

Elizabeth McCoy, membership chairman, introduced nine new members including Laverne B. Champman, F. Murrell Harmon, Helen B. Love, Andrew A. and Loraine Paladino, Josephine Wilkins, John J. and Eleanor Taratjau, and Helen McNally.

Evelyn Filde read the minutes of the July meeting and Juanita Crawley reported on the finances.

Ruth Jensen noted that the National Legislative Committee of AARP asks that all members call their congressmen and senators.

There were 198 in attendance. Attendance prizes were given to Stanley Barry, Nora King, Mildred Votopal, Ruth Squires, Diver Delp, Elizabeth Durr, and Rose Schwertmann.

Refreshments were served by those whose last name started with S and T.

ARREST GC WOMAN ON THREE WARRANTS

After halting a vehicle at Johnson Road and Wabash Avenue last week, officers arrested Neva Y. Powderly, 24, of Adams St., a passenger in the auto, on Granite City warrants, alleging failure to appear on a theft charge and a careless driving allegation.

A third warrant, issued in Edwardsville, alleged revocation of probation. In a court appearance here, she pleaded innocent and bond was set at $502 cash. She was transferred Thursday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

On six consecutive Wednesdays beginning Oct. 20 there will be a course on Indian lore at SIUE. The Dialog for Senior Citizens annual series will begin on Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Helen Bertacchi said that 16 members toured SIUE in August and if others were interested and would like to take the tour, another date could be arranged. She announced that the October program would be the Double G. Whiz Carousal group which had given a well received dance program in June. She then introduced Norma Rains of the Arthritis Foundation who spoke on the Arthritis program. She said she comes to Granite City each fourth Wednesday at the Coordinated Youth building.

There were 198 in attendance. Attendance prizes were given to Stanley Barry, Nora King, Mildred Votopal, Ruth Squires, Diver Delp, Elizabeth Durr, and Rose Schwertmann.

After halting a vehicle at Johnson Road and Wabash Avenue last week, officers arrested Neva Y. Powderly, 24, of Adams St., a passenger in the auto, on Granite City warrants, alleging failure to appear on a theft charge and a careless driving allegation.

A third warrant, issued in Edwardsville, alleged revocation of probation. In a court appearance here, she pleaded innocent and bond was set at $502 cash. She was transferred Thursday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

On six consecutive Wednesdays beginning Oct. 20 there will be a course on Indian lore at SIUE. The Dialog for Senior Citizens annual series will begin on Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Helen Bertacchi said that 16 members toured SIUE in August and if others were interested and would like to take the tour, another date could be arranged. She announced that the October program would be the Double G. Whiz Carousal group which had given a well received dance program in June. She then introduced Norma Rains of the Arthritis Foundation who spoke on the Arthritis program. She said she comes to Granite City each fourth Wednesday at the Coordinated Youth building.

There were 198 in attendance. Attendance prizes were given to Stanley Barry, Nora King, Mildred Votopal, Ruth Squires, Diver Delp, Elizabeth Durr, and Rose Schwertmann.

Refreshments were served by those whose last name started with S and T.

ARREST GC WOMAN ON THREE WARRANTS

Slimettes will begin next week

The Granite City park district's Slimettes Class will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 21.

The morning class will meet from 9:30 until 11 on Tuesdays and Thursdays and the evening session will be on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9.

All classes will be held at the Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Ames avenue.

Classes are limited and registration will begin at the Wilson Park office on Tuesday, Sept. 14, at 9 a.m. It will be an adult class, with the age requirement being 17 years or older.

Proof of residency must be shown at the time of registration.

Before the classes begin, all those enrolled must have an identification card, as it will have to be presented at the Wilson Park office.

Those who are non-residents may attend if there are class openings, but must pay a $15 non-resident fee.

Mr. Lee Suarez will be instructing the exercise to music as well as teaching the group to relax, firm up loose muscles and "maybe lose a few pounds."

This class is one of the most popular programs offered by the park district, a spokesman noted.

Arrest two on conduct charges

Responding to a disturbance call from the Game Room, 25th Street and Nameoki Road, at 11:40 p.m. Friday, officers arrested Robert Fuller Jr., 28, of 933 Reynolds St., Madison, and Andrew S. Batson, 18, of 2641 Center St.

The two men were charged with disorderly conduct when neither allegedly would leave the area when requested and became abusive to officers.

At 1:30 a.m. Saturday, after making a phone call from police headquarters, Fuller allegedly declined to return to his cell and some force was needed to make him comply. Later, he was transferred to a different cell when his behavior became further unruly, according to official reports.

COMPLETES BASIC

Airman Melvin M. Poole Jr., son of Melvin M. and Carolyn D. Poole, 1708 Courtney Blvd., has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill., after completing six weeks of Air Force basic training.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field. Poole is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School North.

STUCK WITH MUG

Sheila Turner, 1904 Kirkpatrick Homes, was stuck and cut on the left side of the head last week by a mug wielded by another woman. She obtained emergency treatment for the cut, received at Sammy's Tavern, Chestnut Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

Surfing, fishing spark 10-4's trip

Deep sea fishing, surfing and swimming in the Atlantic Ocean, plus sightseeing excursions, were enjoyed by members of Explorer Post 10-4 during their 10-day "superactivity" holiday in Florida.

Thirty local Explorers and leaders from Granite City, Madison and Venice, participating in the vacation experience, occupied 11 oceanfront apartments at the Pirates Cove resort motel in Daytona Beach.

The group spent some time at Cape Canaveral and the Kennedy Space Center, and also visited Disney World, Sea World, St. Augustine and Circus World. They also toured the Lookout Mountain area in Tennessee.

This summer marks the fourth year, the post has vacationed at Daytona Beach.

To commemorate the occasion, Lloyd Blumenstock, Post 10-4 president, presented an official Post 10-4 summer uniform to George Anderson, who owns the Pirates Cove and other motels where post members have stayed on previous trips.

Upon returning to the Quad-Cities last week, Blumenstock announced the post will begin its fall-winter activity program in October with the 14th annual "Reunion Campout."

The weekend reunion will take place Oct. 8 through Oct. 10 at Camp Sunnen, near Potosi, Mo.

Post 10-4 meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at the Madison Police Department and visitors always are welcome to attend, according to Blumenstock.

Participation in the post is not restricted to Madison youth and since the post started in 1969 its membership has included boys from the Granite City, Venice and Mitchell areas.

Post 10-4 is sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110.

Local girls tie for award

Darla Mayhall and Angela Judd, both 8 years old, accumulated the most points in their age division in the recent Miss Summertime Pageant at Hartford and shared the high point trophy.

The pageant was sponsored by the Sharold Yount Fair in Knoxville, Tenn., and received a certificate. They also have participated in many parades throughout the summer months.

Competing in the division of 7 to 10 years, the girls performed a duet to "Pac Man Fever," winning first place trophies, and also received first place awards in a team event.

Darla, daughter of Gene and Maggie Mayhall of Granite City, won the Miss Summertime award in her age group, in addition to sharing high point honors and taking first place in teams and duets, second in sportswear modeling and third in talent.

Angela, daughter of Larry and Susan Judd of Venice, won the second place trophy in dress modeling, teams and duet, second in talent and third in photographic, plus the high point tie.

Both girls recently twirled with the Sharold Yount Majorettes at the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tenn., and received a certificate. They also have participated in many parades throughout the summer months.

LOCAL 67 PICNIC SET SEPT. 19

Local 67, U.S.W.A., fourth annual picnic will be held on Sunday, Sept. 19 beginning at 11 a.m. at the Granite City Army Installation picnic grounds.

Games, prizes and refreshments will be featured at the all day event, according to Freda Scott, recording secretary.

Those attending are to bring covered dishes for their group, she added.

VEHICLE STOLEN

Main lock here closing for 2 days

The 1,200-foot main canal lock at Locks No. 27, Granite City, will be closed for approximately two days to enable government personnel to remove and replace the strut arm on the right miter gate leaf.

In order to be able to perform this work, the river stage must be at or below 10 feet on the St. Louis gauge.

River stages permitting, closure will begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 21. It is anticipated that the main lock will be opened to traffic at about 4 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 22.

The 600-foot auxiliary lock here will remain open to traffic during the closure.

"It is requested that all vessel pilots be alert for, and abide by, any special instructions which may be issued by the lockmaster during this period."

Maximum effort will be made to minimize delays to navigation," according to James A. Peterson, chief of the Operations Division, St. Louis District, Army Corps of Engineers.

Don't take lead problem lightly

Five years is a long time to live with high air lead levels while medical research studies advance a possible link between learning disabilities and elevated levels of lead in the blood. Especially when the perhaps dangerous, but subtle, levels cannot be detected by normal childhood testing programs.

Now seems the ideal time for the state — its brothers' environmental keeper — to at long last spearhead an investigation that could enhance lives here and add to a body of knowledge that might help other communities as well.

Granite City tops the state in ambient lead pollution, a dubious distinction that has apparently not gone unnoticed by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency in Springfield. However, residents in possibly hazardous lead areas seem to be the last to get the word, at a time they could be taking extra precautions of keeping other more common sources of lead away from their children.

They should not be neglected this time when the state decides whether or not to fund a local lead study. For the state to take on this complex environmental problem, still in its pioneering stages, seems a natural choice.

With adequate federal backing, a fuller-scale investigation could incorporate a more detailed pathological research and data approach, in cooperation with St. Elizabeth Medical Center, that a less-conclusive blood testing analysis could not. The net effect would be a more comprehensive approach to the effects of low lead intake on the human body.

Those concerned about lead poisoning might contract their state and federal legislators seeking funds to solve the lead question, rather than their local air pollution control bodies. Economics seems the better part of environmental valor.

Troubled times for steelmakers

What do the changes at Granite City Steel and National Steel add up to? We'll voice a few thoughts.

James E. Haas has become corporate president and chief operating officer. The office of the chairman will be manned by Howard M. Love, chairman and chief executive officer, by Haas and by two vice-chairmen, Richard S. Smith and George B. Angevine.

G. Watts Humphrey Jr. is president and Robert D. McBride is executive vice-president for operations of the newly-formed Steel Group (the four plants and the iron ore and limestone operations). George Pulianis is president of the new Fabricated Products Group.

At Granite City Steel, largest local employer, President James V. Stack is retiring and Edward L. Sambuchi has been named vice-president and general manager.

Caught in a time of severe economic recession and worsening steel import inroads, National Steel lost $90 million in the first half of 1982. Several other major producers also reported losses and there is not yet a clear "light at the end of the tunnel."

There is understandable concern and frustration over the July 30 disagreement between industry-wide steelworker and management negotiators. A multi-company strike could develop Aug. 1, 1983, adding to the woes of all parties. Grievances continue to accumulate as cost-cutting is emphasized.

Nevertheless, there are some positive signs. For example, with only a relatively small investment, National Steel has become a major national force in the financial services field, substantially broadening its base and easing cyclical revenue patterns.

Quad-Cityans hope that, as Chairman Love expresses it, the current "organizational and personnel changes—recognizing the evolution to a diversified operating company—will enable the corporation to move more rapidly toward providing a superior and consistent return to our stockholders."

"The reorganization of business units and staff functions will position it to carry out its missions and strategies for improved performance and growth."

Changing the bridge to Cayuga

Will the 19th Street overpass ever be the major carrier of traffic intended when it was designed, or will it remain "the bridge to Cayuga," as some of its critics have called it?

The critics have some point. If one happens to be in downtown Granite City, and happens to need to go to Cayuga Street, it is terrible. However, if a driver wants to get from downtown to McKinley Bridge and St. Louis in a rapid manner, State Street to the bridge via Broadway will be just about as fast when the Venice underpass is rebuilt, and will have fewer stop signs and no lights.

We traveled Rock Road from Route 3 yesterday and counted four stop signs and one traffic light in the six short blocks between Route 3 and the overpass. Those blocks are short and the result is a constant switch from the accelerator to the brake pedal.

It's a waste of time, gasoline and brake linings. It also detracts from the major intent of the overpass — to speed traffic between the downtown area and Route 3 to St. Louis.

The city council needs to decide whether it wants Rock Road to be a convenient and fast route in and out of town or whether it, too, should be used to please a few nearby residents and gain a few votes by bringing traffic to a standstill.

If it is to be used to gain votes, there still are two corners on Rock Road which do not have stop signs. Putting those up should gain at least 10 more votes, even if it further reduces traffic on the overpass.

If it is to become a major carrier of traffic, we suggest the council give the convenience of all of the city's residents preference over the convenience of a few and pull down the stop signs. Removing unnecessary stop signs also can gain some votes.

It's not our role to govern

Newspapers should help their communities, not attempt to run them.

That was one of the main themes stressed at this year's Illinois Press Association (IPA) convention in Decatur, which ended Saturday.

Speakers contended that the American public is losing faith in the press, primarily because, since Watergate, some newsmen have started feeling more important than the general public and their writing reflects that feeling.

There is a fine line between attempting to help the community through the newspaper and trying to run it. Above is an editorial suggesting that the city council remove some of the stop signs along Rock Road to speed traffic movement between the 19th Street overpass and Route 3 to St. Louis. Is that trying to run the city? We don't honestly know.

We guess it depends on how the aldermen view editorial suggestions from the newspaper. If they view our suggestion as an attempt to run the city and dictate removal of the stop signs, we lose credibility.

If they view the suggestion as an idea, based upon observation and talking with others, then we gain credibility. If our suggestion is accepted by the council, then we have done our job and, hopefully, helped the community.

We agree with the IPA speakers. "Let the politicians run the city. That's what they were elected for." People don't elect newspaper reporters or editorial writers.

It is a good time for the American press, including local newspapers, to re-evaluate what we are doing. Only through redefining what our job should be — and doing that job precisely and with a strong sense of ethics — can we maintain our role as the bulletin board "of the people, by the people and for the people."

Petitions here seek voluntary prayer law

To the Editor:

Concerned Americans, thank you for your concern and help in obtaining signatures to bring voluntary prayer back to the children in our schools.

God is working miracles in this area. Doors are opening up where once they were closed.

I have set 10,000 signatures as my goal to present to Brother Cecil Todd. He will be in Granite City on Sept. 28 to pick up our petitions.

May I please have all petitions returned to me prior to that date?

Americans, please give us your signature and a prayer for me and all the children in America.

God bless you. Thanks again for your time, concern and help.

Disagrees with 'a service to community'

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter in the Press-Record about the Zevallos kidnap stories.

It is true that Dr. Zevallos performs other services besides abortions, but certainly not with the same lasting effect.

Referring to Dr. Zevallos as "a caring, compassionate doctor who has done a great service to our community," I feel, is carrying it a little far.

The loss of unborn children is certainly not a service to our community.

And the recent publicity our community has received as a result of the Zevallos incident certainly doesn't build up a community.

I urge, our community leaders to take a look at what some refer to as "a community service."

On the other hand...

Press-Record Staff Writer Nancy Weil views some things in her own way. Stop signs, for example.

Rolling stops are OK, if no cars are coming

Granite City probably has more stop signs than most major metropolitan areas, suburbs included.

Those of us who own cars that stall at every stop know exactly how troublesome those red octagons can be. My luck is that there is usually a police car behind me when I hit the string of stop signs on Delmar coming to or from work. That means I cannot roll or glide through the intersection.

An exact stop is required. Watching in the rearview mirror, however, shows that many of Granite City's finest also do the look, listen and roll routine. Nothing wrong with that at all, but the timing has to be perfect.

For instance, if you are rolling to a stop you must be absolutely certain that another car is not about to do the same — you could roll into hundreds of dollars worth of damages.

But the real point of all this is all the stop signs in Granite City. Certainly there are many places where stop signs are needed. But recently, a two-way stop was erected at the corner of Lindell Boulevard and Terrace Lane. There is also a two-way stop one block over at Cottage and Terrace.

Terrace does not usually have the traffic to justify so many stops in a row — there is a stop at Garfield and Terrace as well.

That's three stops and three stalls. Delmar, Edison and other downtown residential streets have stop signs at nearly every corner. That's a lot of stops and a lot of stalls.

No wonder I am always late.

Who has time to read the Village Voice? Me.

Unemployment appears to be the major concern of most Americans these days. The subject has been reported and scrutinized by virtually the entire media.

The Village Voice, the liberal weekly newspaper emanating from Greenwich Village, New York, recently ran an article with considerably more zest than other unemployment stories.

A reporter "went undercover" acting as an unemployed laborer in order to discover what he could about unemployment in New York. His findings provide a key to what is happening all over the country.

Because of the recession, employers can offer formerly well-paid jobs for substantially less money. For instance, the article mentioned a forklift operator position that paid only slightly above the minimum wage. The unemployed will take such jobs, if only temporarily, because they believe nothing else is available.

It seems that some employers are able to take advantage of the current hard times. At least somebody can gain from the recession. Too bad it is not the people who really need a break.

Swedish student prepared for America

When Anna Carlsson came to the United States from Sweden as a foreign exchange student, she was well prepared for the American way of life. She was educated on Reagonomics, she had seen American television programs such as Dallas, The Muppet Show and Magnum PI, she had been speaking English since the fourth grade and she had eaten a Big Mac from a McDonald's restaurant years before coming to the United States.

"In Sweden we hear most of the news about America," Miss Carlsson says. Sweden televises many American programs and McDonald's has franchises in Sweden.

Miss Carlsson is attending Granite City High School North, where she is enrolled as a junior. She currently lives with Bob and Jean Maxwell. Maxwell is a member of the Granite City Board of Education. After the new year, Miss Carlsson will be staying with Dave and Pam Hutchinson and then later with Paul and Barb Mihalich.

The 15-year-old Swedish girl arrived in the states on Aug. 13 in New York and on Aug. 15 she came to Granite City.

"I like Granite City. Maybe I think Granite City is like my hometown. Halimstad has 40,000 of this. Here you have St. Louis," Miss Carlsson observed.

Maybe I think Granite City is small. My hometown, Halimstad has 40,000 of this. Here you have St. Louis," Miss Carlsson observed.

According to Miss Carlsson, the weather in Miss Carlsson observed.

Miss Carlsson visited the Arch and went to a Cardinal game. "They played San Diego and they were so good," she remarked. In Sweden, soccer is a popular sport. Baseball and football are basically children's sports, related Miss Carlsson.

She chose to come to America to improve her English. "Many people don't want to be an exchange student because they say they will miss graduation. Sure, graduation is a 'big deal,' but being an exchange student is a 'big deal' also," Miss Carlsson noted.

Miss Carlsson's schedule at North includes algebra II, physical education, 20th Century writers, acting, basic clothing and German.

"I took speech because it gives me a chance to speak English," explained Miss Carlsson. She chose to study 12g, wxyzvqz, pnyweden, she took German in seventh grade.

"Sweden's school system and yours cannot be compared, they are so different. Sweden's schools are more like a college," Miss Carlsson noted.

"The houses in my country are very similar to the ones I will be living in in Granite City. One difference is that here, you have many more electrical appliances," Miss Carlsson noted.

There are also many more cars here. Back home, I am used to taking the bus, train or my bike," she stated.

According to Miss Carlsson, the weather in

ANNA CARLSSON is shown on the ski slopes of her home town, Halimstad, Sweden.

Miss Carlsson is an exchange student living with Bob and Jean Maxwell while attending Granite City High School North.

Halimstad is not as cold as many people probably think. "This time of the year it is 50 degrees. A high temperature is around 70 to 80 degrees," Miss Carlsson related.

Miss Carlsson said that a popular question she has been asked since her arrival is, "Do you have a boyfriend yet?" Her answer is simple, "No, I don't have a boyfriend, as you call it. Back home we date, but having a boyfriend isn't important. We have 'special ones.'"

The Maxwell family has one 13-year-old son, David, and Anna has a 13-year-old brother, so life in Granite City is very similar to life in Halimstad.

Warriors defeat Evanston; win Glenbrook tourney

The Granite South soccer team will take its unfinished 50 record across the river tonight to play Bishop DuBourg after winning the Glenbrook North Tournament in suburban Chicago over the weekend.

The Warriors were scored on only once during the tourney — the first goal scored by an opposing team this season. Evanston scored in the fourth quarter of the championship game which South won 4-1.

Both teams were undefeated in the tournament before Saturday's championship game.

The Warriors had a 3-0 lead after three quarters of play. John Menendez scored in the first quarter at 9:31 on an assist from Phil Popmarkoff.

Menendez assisted the next goal by Barry Grote at 55:07 in the third. At 58:35, Tony Segobiano scored unassisted at 58:16. Barry Grote scored the final Warrior goal at 58:35 on an assist from Popmarkoff.

Warrior coach Gene Baker was happy with the tournament results. "I'm very pleased. It was a good tournament," he said.

Aside from facing good competition,

Baker said he believes the Glenbrook tourney "was a cultural and educational experience."

South teammates attended classes at Glenbrook on Friday and Baker said the hospitality was extended by the host school was appreciated.

Prior to the final game, the Warriors defeated New Trier 2-0 in the opening game on Thursday.

The game was scoreless at halftime. Popmarkoff scored first on an assist from Grote 11 seconds into the second half. Fritz Brewer scored the second goal unassisted.

South had 16 shots on goal to New Trier's four.

Friday evening, South defeated Glenbrook North 1-0. It was Warrior goalkeeper Jeb Blasingame's fifth shutout of the season in as many games.

Popmarkoff scored the goal on an assist by Nathan Crane with 9:12 remaining in the first half. Baker said the tourney was played in halves.

South had 16 shots on goal to Glenbrook's five. Blasingame recorded four saves while Glenbrook's goalkeeper recorded 11.

The Warriors and Evanston were both undefeated before the final game.

If South had lost, Evanston would have won the championship, but Baker said that a tie would have meant a win for the Warriors based on goal differential.

Evanston beat New Trier 1-0 and Glenbrook North 1-0 to get to the final. "We played really well in the big games," Baker said.

He credited Blasingame as with much of South's success to this point. "Jeb's been playing very well. We couldn't be more pleased."

Against Glenbrook, Baker said that Blasingame had "one key save" when he dove and then caught the ball, saving the game for South.

Tonight's game against DuBourg, which Baker said is "an important game," is scheduled for 7:30 with the junior varsity game at 5.

Lancers shut out Warrior gridgers 55-0 in opener

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Friday night was a night of shutouts for both Granite City High School football teams.

While Granite City South's sister school Granite City North was taking a similar beating in neighboring Roxana, the Warriors lost their season opener to Belleville East 55-0 in a non-conference game.

Afterwards, Jerry McKechnan, South's head football coach, sat speechless in his office. After a moment he spoke.

"Boy, we didn't expect this," McKechnan said. "East is good — they're always good. I'm just glad we don't have to play them again," McKechnan said. McKechnan, in his second season as the Warrior helmsman, still seeks his first win. Last year, his first victory eluded him as the Warriors finished the season 0-9.

Friday evening things looked remarkably similar to last year's South-East game as the Lancers ripped the Warrior defense for eight touchdowns — two in each the first and second quarters, one in the third, and three in the final quarter. The Lancers scored on all but three of their possessions.

On the other side of the field, first year Lancer head coach Mike McGinnis was looking for his first victory. McGinnis was a gracious victor.

"South should be commended, they played a good game," McGinnis said. McGinnis attributed the Lancer victory to "wearing South down." "Sure, we scored on our first and second possessions," McGinnis said, "but they stopped us on our third and fourth possessions. After that, I think their defense wore out. I think they stopped us only once after that," McGinnis said. "You can't expect a defense to play as much as South's did tonight and not tire."

Comparing this year's team to last year's, McGinnis said, "this year South is 100 percent better."

One reason for the assessment, McGinnis said, was John Linhart. "I've gotta tell you. When we came in here we were scared to death of Linhart and what he could do to us, especially with our rookie secondary," McGinnis said.

Despite East's "rookie secondary," South was shutout.

On the first Warrior possession, a Linhart pass was intercepted by Lancer linebacker Todd Metz. At the 8:27 mark of the first quarter, Lancer quarterback Todd Metz pitched out to Morz who swept around the right side to score. East was on top, and they stayed there.

South's second possession following a Lancer score was indicative of most of the Warrior's series of the evening: Following a bobbled kick return by Tom Adamitis, a dropped Linhart pass and two running plays that came up short, the frustrated Warriors punted. Needless to say, it was not a good evening for the Warrior offense or defense for that matter. The offense converted only a single third down situation to a first down. That conversion came on a Ken Portell run a 13-yard gain in the first quarter, otherwise the Warrior offense was stifled. After the game, a dejected Linhart blamed himself for the poor offensive showing.

"I should have done better," Linhart said. "I felt as though I was a little slow in reading their defense," Linhart said. For most of the game, East was in a four-four defense: a defense used primarily to protect a pass-oriented team.

Overall, the Lancers held the ball for nearly 27 minutes of the game, while the Warrior's controlled the ball for slightly more than 21 minutes, mostly in between Lancer touchdowns. Offensively, Linhart was eight of 19 attempts for a total of 61 yards. He had two interceptions. South's backs rushed 16 times for 39 yards. Defensively, Corey McConnell led the Warriors in tackles with six solo tackles and 10 assists.

North golfers finish best ever

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School North High School golf coach Russ Chappell called his team's sixth finish in the eighth annual Granite City North Golf Scramble "the best Steeler finish ever."

Both North, which tied with Alton, and Granite City High School South, which finished tenth, finished behind a strong Edwardsville team which won the event.

In high school golf scramble competition, each team fields three pairs of golfers, each pair competing in one of three flights: A, B, and C. The A golfers, generally the better golfers, compete against themselves, while the B and C golfers do the same.

Saturday, Bill Early and Kevin Schatz finished third in the A flight with a total of 70 strokes which was good enough for a third place finish, while South's Ken Rapp and Randy Thurman finished sixth in the same division with a score of 71.

In B flight competition, South's Jeff Pare and John Tackett finished eighth overall with a score of 76, edging North's Dave Goff and Steve Crow who finished ninth with 77.

In C flight competition, North's Frank Hayes and Dave Warfield finished seventh with 80 strokes, 10 strokes in front of South's C flight of Don Kaltmayer and Mike Shurman, who finished 11th with a score of 90.

As mentioned, Edwardsville won the event with a team score of 210. The Tigers managed that finish mostly on the performance of both of its A and B flight teams which finished first in each flight with a score of 68 and 66 respectively.

Mt. Vernon, last year's co-winner with 216 points, finished second this year primarily because all three of its flight teams finished in second place with a total score of 211, just a stroke behind Edwardsville.

The best team score ever at the Scramble was set years ago by O'Fallon with a team score of 208. This year, the Panthers finished fifth with a score of 225.

TEAM TOTALS: Edwardsville 210; Mt. Vernon 211; Wood River 213; Highland 220; O'Fallon 225; GRANITE CITY NORTH and Alton tied 227; Centralia and Salem tied 232; GRANITE CITY SOUTH 237 and Jerseyville 238.

Madison downs Assumption

Madison soccer coach Gene Briggs had a little talk with his team last week before they went into overtime in the opening game at Assumption. The Trojans really had a desire to win the game.

They showed Briggs exactly how strong their winning desire was by putting in the winning goal only 40 seconds into the first overtime period and holding Assumption for the remainder of the 10 minutes. The Trojans won 4-3.

"I found out if they wanted to win or go home tied. Being tied is like kissing your sister, it doesn't do much," Briggs said. John Lewis scored the winning goal on "a low hard shot" after Derrick Newsome got the ball to Gary Campbell who got the assist on a long cross.

Lewis had also scored the second goal on a pass from Robert Bishop. Bishop wrenched the ball out of a crowd in the Assumption goal area and passed to Lewis. "It took a little bit of determination," Briggs said. Assumption scored first on what Briggs termed, "a defensive mistake. It was a lack of communication. But we talked about it early and it did get much better as the game progressed," Briggs added that the team was not talking to each other as much as they should, but said he thought they would rectify that problem as the season progresses. Madison came back when Derrick Johnson scored on an assist from Mike Young 12 minutes into the game. "He (Johnson) hit a good hard shot that the defense couldn't handle," Briggs said.

Mike Young scored the third goal in the fourth quarter on an assist from DeLoyd Williams.

Assumption, however, came back and scored three in a row. Two of the goals were on clear kicks about 30 yards out of the goal area. "We were off with offside calls. Madison scored three goals that were called back on that penalty and also scored a goal that was called back because a player took a direct instead of an indirect, two-kick, off a penalty."

Madison Trojans

Offensively, the team played well, but had some problems with offside calls. Madison scored three goals that were called back on that penalty and also scored a goal that was called back because a player took a direct instead of an indirect, two-kick, off a penalty."

Madison had 20 shots on goal to Assumption's five. Briggs was pleased with the aggressive play, but said that goalkeeper Lefty Pryor needs a little more work. The game was Pryor's first appearance in goal. The Trojans play Gibault in Waterloo tonight at 4 p.m.

Deadline nears for Stadium Run

The entry deadline for the fourth annual Busch Stadium Run, sponsored by Budweiser Light, has been set for Saturday, Sept. 18. The run will take place at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 25. The unique 6.2-mile run through downtown St. Louis, finishing in Busch Stadium, is conducted on a national handicap system which gives a competitive advantage to runners depending upon their age and sex.

The course for the Busch Stadium Run starts on the south side of the stadium on Spruce Street. The runners will go east on Spruce, north on Fourth, west on Convention Plaza, south on Eighth, south on Stadium Plaza, south on Seventh, south on Broadway, south on Seventh to the Anheuser-Busch brewery, east on Arsenal, north on Broadway to the stadium, west on Spruce to the wagon gate entrance into the stadium and to finish line in the second base area.

Entry forms for the Busch Stadium Run are available at the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals' office at 250 Stadium Plaza, St. Louis, and at sporting goods outlets in the greater St. Louis area.

Roxana blanks Steelers 28-0 in season opener

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

ROXANA — Granite City North football coach Tom Wyrostek knew the Roxana Shells would do some passing against the Steelers in Friday's season opener, but he probably didn't expect the Shells' passing to be so deadly.

Roxana passed for 136 yards and set up all of its four touchdowns with passes, and the Shells defeated North 28-0 in a non-conference game.

"We knew they could pass the ball, and we expected them to do some passing, but I thought we'd do a better job covering them," Wyrostek said.

The Shells needed almost two full quarters to find the weakness in the Steelers defense, but when they found the weakness, the Shells were on their way.

North controlled the Shells in the first quarter and the early part of the second quarter. The Steelers sent in their defensive tackles and linebackers to stop the Roxana running game and to put pressure on the quarterback.

However, the pursuit left the secondary alone to try to stop the pass receivers. The Steelers didn't have the speed to stop the passing game.

"One of our weaknesses this year was going to be our secondary," Wyrostek said. "We're slower back there than we were last year, and they just beat us to the ball."

Prior to Roxana's first touchdown, Roxana only crossed the 50-yard line once. The Shells only passed the ball twice in its first four series.

However, the next series gave the Steelers an example of what they would receive the rest of the game. The first play was a 17-yard pass play from quarterback Brad Haug to Barry Bodenbach which moved the Shells from their 42 to North's 41.

Haug then completed two more

passes to Brad Buerk for 14 and 16 yards to move the Shells to the 11. On the next play, Loren Shroat ran for the touchdown. Brian Brokaw's PAT made it 7-0 with 1:22 left in the first half.

Roxana coach Charlie Raich was surprised the passing game went so well for the Shells. He placed the credit for the success on two factors.

"It's early in the season, and if a team's throwing a ball, it's awfully hard to protect against the pass because the defense isn't in peak condition. It gives the advantage to the quarterback," Raich said.

The Shells, which won the Mississippi Valley Conference last year and advanced to the Class 4A semi-finals, have been primarily a running team in the past. Haug gave the Shells another angle against North.

"Brad really played well. He made some nice passes there. I didn't know we were going to have to pass that well," Raich said. "Granite was going after us with everyone, and Brad just put the ball in the right places."

On Roxana's first series of the third quarter, the Shells moved the ball on three pass plays and five running plays. Haug passed five yards to Buerk for the touchdown.

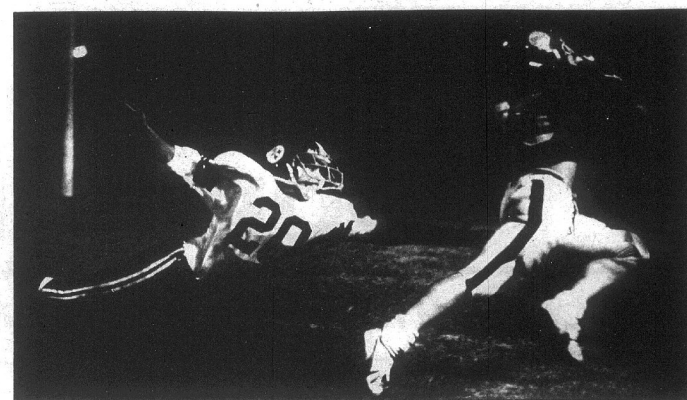

North's Marty Steinmeyer, who replaced Darren DePew as North's punter because DePew aggravated a sprained ankle during the first half, made a 22 yard punt from the Steelers 12 to set up the next drive.

After a 17 yard pass to Bodenbach, Shroat ran the ball six yards and two plays later, ran the remaining 11 yards for the touchdown.

Roxana scored on its next possession. After a shanked punt which went only seven yards, the Shells scored on a seven-yard pass from Haug to Buerk for the final touchdown with 10:54 left in the game.

"They just came out and played football," Wyrostek said. "When you come to Roxana, you'd better be ready to play. They outplayed us and outlasted us."

The Steelers could get little going on offense. North only had 113 total yards for the game.

DESPERATION DIVE. Granite City North's John Kindle (20) makes a futile dive to stop Roxana's Loren Shroat from scoring his second touchdown in Friday's season opener for both teams. The host Shells won the non-conference football game 28-0.

Robertson, South's girls finish second in meet

A GREAT START. Granite City South's girls cross country team took second place Saturday in the first major cross country meet in the area — the Granite City North Invitational Cross Country Meet. The South girls making their start are Michelle Shoemaker, Mary Romine, Mary Bisch and Lora Wiser.

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Jim Robertson, Granite City North's premiere cross country runner has a goal for the 1982 season. He's only a junior, but he wants to be one of the top 20 long distance runners in Illinois this year.

If Robertson improves on the pace he set in the Granite City North Cross Country Invitational Meet Saturday, he just may achieve that goal. Robertson finished second in the varsity boys division of the meet and led the Steelers to third place in the boys division.

Meanwhile, Granite City South's Lora Wiser and Mary Bisch put together sixth and seventh place summer, and I couldn't work on weights. I think that was why he had a strong finish."

Robertson said he has a lot of work to do before his goal is fulfilled. "I've got to work on my foot speed and I got to work on the weights a whole lot."

His coach, Pete Robinson, knew Robertson could be one of the best runners in the area after his sophomore year. "He showed me a lot of potential during his sophomore year, and I knew he could be one of the better runners this year if he worked hard during the summer."

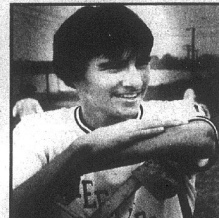

Robertson put in an average of six miles a day over the summer, and he often ran 10 to 15 miles some days.

Because of that hard work, Robinson thinks Robertson's goal is reachable this year. "That's a realistic goal for him. I think he can do it. We're not into the hard training yet, and we'll build up until the eighth week so he'll peak out in the last month of the season. He's got to work on his own pace and not worry about the other guy's race."

"Anybody who runs anything close to 14-flat on our course this early in the season is usually a contender in state. Over the years, that's been a pretty good predictor on who will make it," Robinson said.

North's finish wasn't a single-handed effort. Ken Meyer was 13th (14:57), John Peters was 28th (15:23), Ken Kalka was 35th (15:44) and Bill Schaefer was 49th (16:03).

Jim Robertson...finishes second at North, but seeks better things.

Granite North Steelers

(12:54), and Connie Williamson was 44th (13:47).

"Lora really did well. She ran a good strong race. That was only the second time she's run a cross country course, that is awfully good for someone her age and with her lack of experience."

Even with the strong individual performances, Harmon expected better things.

"We came in second and I thought we could have won it," Harmon said.

"Next week, the girls are going to find out what cross country really is." Belleville West won the meet with 70 points. South had 92 points and Hazelwood East had 118 points. Granite City North was in 12th place with 340 points. Paula Rozyczka was North's top runner and placed 47th (13:48).

Sports of all Sorts

Replacing the old sports with new

By AL BARNES
My recent column on the sports of my youth, such as marbles, etc., brought out the biggest deluge of letters and phone calls I've ever received.

Most of them claimed to have been the champion of their area for certain years, but only one named dates and other data which leads me to feel that he was, in fact, a champion, or at least, as he claims, a runner-up.

The claimant came in a letter (dated Sept. 2, 1982) from Vasil Tanase of Madison, Ill.

Says Tanase: "In 1933, I entered the marble tournament (which was sponsored by the old St. Louis Star and Times. I was going to the old Harris School at the time. I was in the eighth grade."

"We played at a playground in St. Louis. I can't remember the name but I think it was near the old McBride High School."

McBride High, now closed, was located on Kingshighway and Easton. Or, come to think of it, was it Page? Anyway, the area was the site of many such activities as the marble tourney Mr.

Tanase cites. He continues: "I placed second in the tournament and I still have the medal they gave (presented) to me. I think (that) Frank May, my classmate, was first. As of the present time, I don't know where his residence is."

But, off-setting that loss to some degree has been the rapid growth of soccer and its acceptance by boys and girls from six years on through high school and college and finally, in pro ranks.

I have long felt that our society's failure to incorporate soccer into our athletic programs going back 150 years was a tragic mistake. Just think of the million of boys and girls who could have enjoyed playing the game of soccer all those years. In my own life span, which saw the rapid growth of team sports from 1920 through to this day, the lack of soccer in the programs of the high schools deprived many, many kids of a chance to take part in a sport. Soccer, of course, is a sport in which brute force or giant size isn't as crucial as was our main sports of the past 60 years... football and basketball.

In the area in which I came of age, central Illinois, and, in fact, the entire state and mid-west, soccer would have made it possible for many hundreds of high schools to have "fielded" soccer devers, which couldn't afford to "field" football (American version, that is) teams.

One has to ask one's self the question: why? It would have been only one answer: It was as if we decided back there around just before the outbreak of the Civil War that everything we did must be other than the Old Country and that attitude included sports. So, we invented our own game like baseball, basketball and football, and completely ruled out soccer.

What a tragic mistake, don't you agree. Address all letters to Sports of All Sorts to: Al Barnes, 2520 State Street, Granite City, Ill. 62040. Or call: 432-0433.

Warrior boosters meet

The G.C. South Booster Club will hold a pot luck dinner on Tuesday, Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. in the G.C. South Cafeteria.

The Booster Club will provide the chicken for the dinner. Each member or prospective member is asked to bring a covered dish.

The purpose of the dinner is to introduce the Booster officers for the '82-'83 year. Special guests for the evening will be the entire G.C. South coaching staff and spouses.

Those planning to attend are asked to call Cafele Cathey, 877-1095 and let her know what you plan to bring.

Only one runner could run North's course better than Robertson and that was Tim Ryan of O'Fallon. Ryan had 424 points and was in 17th place. Gary Earhart was South's top runner with a time of 16:19 and finished 68th.

Although South's Kathy Juhasz, one of the Warriors' top girls runners, was ill and couldn't run, the Warriors took second place because of their depth.

Richard Harmon, South's cross country coach, thought the girls could have done better. "We didn't run as well as I thought we should have. I don't know what the problem was. I can't figure it out."

Wiser, a freshman, ran the shorter girls course in 12:14 and beat Mary Bisch, a senior teammate, by only two seconds. South's Mary Romine was 16th (12:40), Michelle Shoemaker was 21st

Steelers, Quincy Notre Dame kick to deadlock

DEFENSE! Steve Trittschuh, Granite City North's soccer fullback, heads the ball away from Quincy Notre Dame's Eric Peters during the first half of Saturday's game at Granite City North. The Steelers and Notre Dame played to a 0-0 tie in the non-conference game.

(Press-Record Photo by Roger Kramer)

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

It was the battle of the goalkeepers Saturday afternoon at Granite North when the Steelers played Quincy Notre Dame. After double overtime the teams had held each other to a 0-0 tie and had it not been for Rick Branding, North goalkeeper, Notre Dame could easily have won the game.

But Branding played superbly for North recording eight saves during regulation play and one in overtime.

"It's a very good goalkeeper. He saved the game for us," said Bob Kehoe, North coach of Branding.

Branding had defensive help from Steve Trittschuh, who made some impressive plays to keep QND's offense at bay. In the first quarter, Trittschuh headed a ball out of the center goal area to stop QND's attack. Prior to that, Sam Tate, junior North defender who is steadily progressing this season, had a controlled run with the ball to take it out of the area.

On offense, the Steelers had some fine moments, but overall the passing game still is not where it could be.

Saying that North played well in "bits and pieces," Kehoe added that he "at times we played pretty decent."

The recurring problem for North, however, is holding the ball too long and passing inaccurately.

"The passing was not good. They tried, but the passes were inaccurate. That's an improvement over holding the ball too long and losing it," Kehoe said.

So far, Kehoe said he has been unable to pinpoint the reason for the Steelers' inconsistency.

"They have flashes of cohesiveness," he said.

During such flashes, North passed the ball accurately on "one-two" touches. "They moved the ball easily from one player to the other," Kehoe said.

At that point, players decide having mastered moving the ball easily, to try something more difficult, he said.

"Everything else is difficult," he said.

Another problem Kehoe noted was that as soon as players get the ball they need to look for a teammate to pass to. "As soon as you get the ball you draw a crowd. You should start looking for help."

At times Saturday, North seemed to be playing listlessly, without life. This was due to "coming off a big game (against South)," Kehoe added that QND was in a similar situation having played top rival, Quincy Senior a few days earlier.

North did have some exciting moments. In the second quarter Tim Dean moved the ball down the sideline with momentum, but QND's defense stopped him short.

In the same quarter, Benny Nolan took over on a breakaway and passed back to Dean when a QND defender got in front. The QND defense moved in and got the ball out of the goal area.

Throughout the second quarter, North played with renewed vigor. Dave Shueh had a good shot from the left side that was saved and shortly after that, obstruction was called on Quincy. Dean took a shot and put it in good scoring position at the center, but nobody was there to put the ball away.

In the third quarter of regulation play, Trittschuh made a spectacular play when Quincy's Tom Vehl came up the center and approached the goal area. Trittschuh kicked the ball off the inside of his right foot, which is a typical play. But Trittschuh hit the ball as he was facing the goal area and stuck his foot out behind him.

QND kept possession and Branding made an excellent diving save to knock the ball out.

With seconds remaining in the third, Dean took the ball into the goal area and from there North took two successive shots on goal, but Steve Bichsel, QND goalkeeper, hit the ground for two nice saves.

The fourth quarter was less eventful except for a breathtaking save by Branding. The ball was headed into the net off a head when Branding leaped into the air and hit it over with his fist.

Trittschuh came out of the game in the second overtime and removed the shoe and sock from his right foot. His right ankle was swollen as he limped around North's bench area.

Kehoe said that Trittschuh had told trainer Bill Cochran that he was feeling tired.

"You live with your heart in your mouth everytime he plays," Kehoe said. Trittschuh is still working to rehabilitate his ankle which he injured during North's first game.

The Steelers face Vianney, Missouri state champions this afternoon at Vianney. The game is set for 4 p.m. The Steelers are now 3-1 this season.

Trojanette spikers fall to Assumption

E. ST. LOUIS — The Trojanette varsity volleyball team dropped their season opener to Assumption High School last Thursday night here, while the Jayvee squad reciprocated the varsity loss to defeat Assumption's junior squad.

In the best of three series, the varsity Trojanettes dropped a hard-fought first game 16-14, and then lost the second game 15-7 after the let down of the first game.

"I don't know what happened (to the varsity)," said Trojanette coach Carol Cole. "I've seen them play much better. I think maybe they were over confident."

The Jayvee squad, Mrs. Cole said, played up to their potential as she called the Jayvee victory "a great team effort."

The Jayvee spikers dropped the first game to Assumption 15-8, but came back to win the next two 15-2 and 15-13 for the team victory.

The Trojanettes face Alton this Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 6 p.m. at home.

Dental and medical school funds sought

Approximately $312,000 in planning funds for a dental education clinic facility for the Alton Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville heads the capital budget priority listing for the SIUE system for fiscal year 1983-84, approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees at its meeting in Carbondale.

The priority listing will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) as part of the Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMPM), a budgeting plan instituted by the IBHE as the first in a series of steps required to develop actual operating and capital fund requests for the year beginning July 1, 1983.

The second priority is acquisition of property adjacent to the School of Medicine in Springfield for later remodeling to meet anticipated space needs in the next 10 years and reduce current leasing of space. Funds requested for this total nearly $3 million, with $2.8 million for actual property acquisition and $400,000 for planning funds.

The next four projects on the capital budget priority list are repair and replacement projects, followed by a proposed expansion of Dental Satellite Clinic facilities in East St. Louis, estimated to cost $543,000.

The repair and replacement projects include replacement of underground electric cable at SIUE at Carbondale, $332,000; replacement of roofs on the Supporting Services Building and the penthouses of Buildings II and III at SIUE, $348,800; roof replacements on all or part of seven buildings at SIUE, $373,000; and renovation and remodeling of the East St. Louis Center, $218,900.

The priority listing includes nine projects for SIUE at an estimated cost of $4.4 million, and 10 projects for SIUE at an estimated cost of $2.8 million, for a system total of $7.3 million.

In addition, eight energy conservation projects, three for SIUE and five for SIUE, are listed at a total estimated cost of $1.8 million. Also included are five food production projects for SIUE at a total of $2.4 million.

The separate priority lists for energy conservation and food production were prepared at the request of the IBHE.

The SIUE system request, with all three lists included, totals $11.5 million. University officials said the proposed dental education clinic facility at Alton would consist of 30,800 square feet, providing 72 dental operatories.

Estimated cost of the facility is $4.5 million. The present dental clinic at Alton is housed in a barracks-type building constructed in 1940 and renovated in 1972.

Proposed expansion of the Dental Satellite Clinic at SIUE's East St. Louis Center would permit enlarging the existing clinic from nine to 24 dental operatories. Costs would include $119,000 for dental chairs, cabinets and miscellaneous equipment and $424,000 for remodeling 4,000 square feet to accommodate additional operatories.

In addition to the highest priority items, other SIUE capital projects listed, excluding energy conservation and food production, and their system wide priority rankings are: Alton campus, minor remodeling, $127,600, No. 8; Wagner Service Center, renovation and remodeling, $170,400, No. 9; resurfacing roads, drives and walks and site improvements, $256,200, No. 12.

Also planning for an instrumental music rehearsal annex to the Communications Building, $11,600, No. 15; Lovejoy Library, replace carpeting, $340,000, No. 16; and construction of a vehicle maintenance garage near the Supporting Services Building, $374,900, No. 17.

Hope to expand parking areas at university

Plans for modification, expansion and improvement of several existing parking areas at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, at an estimated cost of $150,000, were approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The plans will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education for review and approval.

The project includes providing more parking spaces in Lot C, behind the Rendleman Building, and rerouting the access road to Lot E for pedestrian safety behind the Communications and Science Buildings.

Also included are plans to modify and expand Lots A and D, serving the northwest sector of the campus core, to accommodate parking needs at the Multi-purpose Building, currently under construction. Access roads will be rerouted as part of the modification plans.

The anticipated source of funds for the project is revenue from fines and the sale of parking decals. The project is designed as a non-instructional capital improvement.

Sheriff cuts costs with process server

By JIM SCHLUETTER

The Madison County Sheriff's Department has been saving money with a new method of serving process papers, according to Sheriff Emil Toffant.

Instead of using a salaried deputy sheriff to serve papers, the sheriff's department has been using a recently retired deputy, Andy Diak.

Diak, who has been serving the papers since his retirement June 23, receives half of the $8 serving fee and half of the mileage fee for each paper he serves. The county receives the other half of the two fees and the entire $3 return fee for each paper served.

Although no exact figures were available, the sheriff said savings should be considerable.

"We're able to serve more papers and make more money, but it won't cost the county at all," Toffant said. "You're saving a man's salary, the expense of an automobile, providing gasoline and the clothing allowance."

Toffant credited County Board Member Fred Dalton, Collinsville, with the idea. Dalton, a member of the county finance committee and chairman of the personnel committee, asked if process serving could be done with less expense to the county, according to Toffant.

With the county facing a possible $2 million budget deficit in 1983, all departments have been asked to find ways to cut expenses. Toffant is happy that he found a way.

HONOLULU DUTY

Captain Robert B. Stevens, son of General and Mrs. S. C. Stevens of Granite City, has arrived for duty in Honolulu, Stevens, a staff anesthesiologist at Tripler Army Medical Center, was previously assigned at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D.C.

His wife, Susan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Elliott of Cincinnati.

"He (Dalton) was always mentioning it to me," Toffant said. "We realize that we're in a bind, and that the budget won't allow us to expand anywhere and that we have to keep expenses down."

CANNABIS WARRANT

Responding to an out-of-town cannabis possession warrant, Granite City police arrested Everett T. Hughes, 24, of 2901 Circle Drive at his home recently. When he failed to post a $3,000 bond or $300 cash, he was turned over to Hartford police.

SIUE operating funds are down

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved on Thursday a $246,134,504 operating budget for the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses and the Office of the Chancellor, based on state appropriations and anticipated non-appropriated income for the 1983 fiscal year, which began July 1.

The budget, up $3.6 million or 1.5 percent over last year, is based on estimated income of $182.3 million from state appropriations and $83.8 million in non-appropriated funds.

Of the state appropriations, which account for 66 percent of the total operating budget, the Carbondale campus will receive $114.8 million, up less than one percent over last year, while the local campus will receive $44.5 million, a one percent decrease.

The chancellor's office will receive $988,000, down less than one percent.

State appropriated funds consist of general revenue funds (tax dollars) and income fund collections, derived primarily from tuition and fees.

General revenue funds will support 51 percent of the projected budget, while income fund collections are expected to support 15 percent.

Projected non-appropriated funds represent a net increase of $3.3 million or four percent over last year, with the Carbondale campus budgeted for an increase of $383,000 (4.6 percent). The Edwardsville campus is budgeted for an increase of $2.9 million (20.5 percent).

Funds in the non-appropriated category include income received in support of research and other programs sponsored by governmental entities and private foundations and corporations; reimbursements of indirect costs on sponsored programs; revenues from operation of bond-financed auxiliary enterprises, principally housing and student center operations; and income from other self-supporting auxiliary enterprises and activities which are funded primarily by student fees and operating charges.

The increase in state appropriated funds provides salary increases averaging three percent for all employees, to be granted Jan. 1, 1983. Funding for these increases was provided on only 90 percent of the fiscal 1982 personal services base.

The budget does not allow for any increases in general costs. And only 70 percent of the original funding level recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) for utility cost increases has been provided.

Each university had its fiscal 1982 personal services base reduced by 1.5 percent. A reduction in staffing was achieved at both institutions by assessing a productivity improvement equal to one percent of the 1982 personal services base at SIUC and 1.5 percent at SIUE.

In addition, SIUE received a budget base reduction of $683,700 on the basis of an IBHE analysis of instructional costs. Funding increases of $1 million at SIUC and $405,000 at SIUE are recommended for high-cost, high-enrollment growth disciplines such as engineering, computer science, agriculture, business and law, and for scientific and technical equipment. This funding was provided with revenues from tuition increases above 10 percent and a reduction of tuition retained from auxiliary enterprises.

Other base adjustments include reductions of $350,000 at the SIUC School of Medicine and $206,000 at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine.

Q. There is something I've been curious about for as long as I've had a checking account of any kind, what is the long number to the left of my account number and what are the strange combination of numbers next to the dateline and below by the check number?

A. The numbers to the left of your account number on the bottom of your personal check is an electronic code which identifies your account. It is machine read for speed. However, the bank uses your signature to verify authenticity, and not the code, before paying checks from your account. The other number which usually looks like a strange fraction next to a large number, identifies transit and routing numbers used to identify your bank and its location.

Off-duty police wages increase

Detective Sgt. Don Knight, representing police union Local 113 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, spoke out against higher wages being charged private companies hiring off-duty policemen.

The city and the union act together as a hiring agent for policemen, who work as part-time security guards at local banks and business places. Those companies pay the city for the police services, and the city reimburses the policemen, who are paid overtime.

On Sept. 1, the city increased its basic charge to the private employers to cover employee-related costs that are above the basic wage amount.

Knight said the rate hike jeopardizes his department's opportunity for the part-time work, which also keeps extra police on the streets. One business already has cancelled the services since the increase took effect, he said.

ALLEGES VISITOR STEALS KEYS, CASH

A 15-year-old girl visiting the home of Pat and Diane Stuckey, 1357 Edwardsville Road, allegedly stole house and car keys and about $2 cash from a purse lying on the kitchen table, last week.

The girl ran from the dwelling when advised police would be called and was located at a nearby drive-in restaurant. Initially, she gave officers a different name and denied taking the items.

After the girl was taken to Granite City police headquarters via squad car, an officer found four keys beneath the rear seat of the car, it was learned. Her mother was notified and the girl was held pending further investigation.

Rites held for William Bucher

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Charlotte Zachary at the First Presbyterian Church in Madison on Sept. 8 for William Frank Bucher Sr., 78, of 1527 Fourth St., Madison. He died at 3:55 p.m. Sept. 6 at his home.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth (Lee) Bucher; two daughters, Mrs. Ralph (Shirley) Fries, Caseyville, and Mrs. Paul (Mary Anne) Svezia, Granite City; a son, William Franklin Bucher Jr., Madison; one sister, Mrs. Charity Ackerman, Granite City; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Another daughter, Mrs. Betty Meyer, died in 1976. Mr. Bucher also was preceded in death by three sisters.

Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

REPORTS BEATING NEAR GC TAVERN

Pat Squires, 2131 Grand Ave., reported being beaten last week as he and a companion were leaving the Long Branch Tavern, 2105 Grand Ave. Three men stopped him near the front door, asked if he was causing trouble and then struck him, knocking him to the ground and kicking him in the face.

The victim said his assailants asked if he had money and then put him into a car and drove to Madison, where they beat him again. He jumped from the vehicle near the Broadway viaduct leading into Venice and ran to the Madison police station. Squires said one of the men was over six feet tall and had blond, curly hair.

The wedding of Miss Susan Lorraine Elmore and Thomas Keith Goedeke was solemnized on July 17 in an early evening ceremony at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road. Nuptial selections were provided by Alan Miller at the organ who also accompanied Elizabeth Barnabe, soloist.

The Rev. Sheldon Culver officiated at the 6 o'clock service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Elmore, 2605 Whippoorwill Lane. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Goedeke of Troy, Ill.

For her wedding the bride chose a full length white chiffon gown fashioned with a Queen Ann neckline and long full sleeves, trimmed with Venise lace.

The semi-straight skirt extended into a full sweep train. Her fingertip veil was secured to a Venise lace and pearl cap and she held a bouquet of white silk roses intermingled with pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Barbara Elmore, a sister-in-law of the bride, served a matron of honor with bridesmaids, Kathy Carr, Mary Elliott, a cousin of the bride, Jan Goedeke-Anglin, the groom's sister, and Mary Ellen Moore.

They were gownned alike in bright pink voile dresses created with spaghetti strap bodices and long flowing skirts worn with jackets enhanced with short ruffled sleeves.

Elizabeth Sabo, the bride's cousin, was the flower girl and she also wore a soft pink frock with a ruffled skirt. Fred Barnabe attended the groom as best man. Joe Garde, Mark Elmore, brother of the bride, Jim Irwin, Dave Anglin, brother-in-law of the groom, and Gary Duff, a cousin of the groom, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Carl Dueser and Greg Guenther. Jason Carr was the ring bearer.

A graduate of Granite City High School North, the bride also graduated from Lewis and Clark Community College with an Associate in Business degree. She is employed as a research clerk at A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc.

The groom works as a revenue auditor with the Illinois Department of Revenue. He graduated in 1972 from Belleville Township High School East and in 1978 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he earned a B.S. Degree in Business Administration.

Following the church service guests were received at a reception held at the Trigg Catering Banquet Center in St. Louis. They are residing in Granite City after a cruise to Bermuda.

Troop 7 holds 3-day campout

Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Catholic Church, held a three day weekend campout at the Dr. Edmund A. Babler Memorial State Park in Chesterfield, Mo.

The park preserves a community of wildlife and forest which is known as the Missouri River Hills of the Northern Ozark border and is located 47 miles from Granite City. Along with troop equipment the scouts took bicycles as the mode of transportation while camping.

Various activities were planned for competition between the Troop's Leadership Corps and the Flaming Arrow Patrol. They included a badminton tournament, "capture the flag," volleyball, speedway game, and softball.

The scouts also took part in a variety of activities with Steve Kusmierczak Jr. was named overall winner.

Swimming during the day and night hikes through the dense woods were also enjoyed by the local scouts. Senior Patrol Leader Kevin Williamson served as the trailmaster for the troop while the scouts were on bicycles and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Steve Kusmierczak Jr. was the trailmaster on the night hike.

On Saturday evening the group rode bikes to Crestview Junior High School located in Glenview, Mo., where they observed the 12th point of the scout law by attending Mass with the parishioners of the new parish of St. Alban's. They were invited to take an active part in the Mass as Mike Brazel, Greg Hagen, Joe Kusmierczak and David Pinero presented gifts that were to be offered at Mass.

On the final day of the campout the scouts moved to a picnic area where their parents arrived to share in a family fun day. Games were played and refreshments were served prior to departure for home.

Transportation was provided by Ted Brazel, Robert Hagen and Steve Kusmierczak Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Mueller, 2812 Madison Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Brenda Mueller of Blackstone, Ill. and Bobby Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Underwood, 502 McClellan, Chenoa, Ill.

Miss Mueller graduated from Granite City High School South in 1975 and from Illinois State University in 1979 with a Bachelor Degree. She is employed as a music instructor in the Woodland School District, Streator, Ill. Her fiancé was graduated from Chenoa High School in 1972 and is employed as a tool designer at Seibert's & Son in Chenoa.

The betrothed couple is completing plans for a Nov. 20 wedding to take place at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave.

Church Women United opens new season

Quad-City Church Women United announce a series of forthcoming programs of interest to the community for the fall and winter season.

The initial event will be a meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 21, at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church when the CWU Board will elect officers at a 1 p.m. session. "A Parents' Guide" is the theme of a workshop scheduled at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, to be in session from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Nan Henderson, a member of the organization, has designed the workshop while completing a graduate certificate in Gerontology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The workshop offers help and discussion of a timely topic, that of the problems confronting adults with aging parents or friends, according to Mrs. Nona Corzilius, president.

Those who plan to attend are to bring a sack lunch and $2.50 registration fee which provides many resources in a packet to be used during the workshop discussions. The president also announces a make-up blood drive at the American Red Cross office at 2100 Edison Ave., from 2 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 12.

Other programs include World Community Day to take place on Friday, Nov. 5, at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2100 Cleveland Blvd. with Mrs. Mildred Jungels serving as chairman. Donations of $5 for the purchase of blankets for CROP will be collected at this meeting, the chairman added.

Mrs. Corzilius also explained a Hospice Bereavement training project which begins on Sept. 14 and continues through the 16, 21 and 23 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Also training sessions on Oct. 4, 6, 11 and 13. Those interested in volunteering are advised to call Lois Lybarger, Director of Volunteers at the local medical center.

Volunteers are also needed for the ongoing programs which includes tutors for students. Those wishing to assist in this project are to call Dolores Vogeler at 876-1820. Also a visitation project with Mobile Meals recipients under the leadership of Mae Lee at 876-8314 or Florence Simpson at 876-8828.

Many churches have already held showers for the layette program but knitters and seamstresses are also needed according to Mary Ohendorf. For patterns and supplies those who wish to participate in this program are to call her at 931-2139. Sharon DePew at 931-0595 is taking registration for volunteers who are able to babysit for persons attending Mental Health training and counseling sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Phelps

Phelps-Martin

Miss Vicki Lynn Martin became the bride of Gary Lee Phelps Jr. on July 24 in an afternoon ceremony performed by Judge Charles Chapman at 3 o'clock in the 1904 World's Fair Pavilion in Forest Park.

A program of organ music was provided by Dave Sharp and the reception was held in the park immediately following the service.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James R. Martin, 7252 S. Roland, Pasadena Hills, Mo. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lee Phelps Sr., 3307 Franklin Ave.

Miss Robin Angel Martin, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and Lizzie Uthoff was the flower girl. Pete Ardison, the groom's cousin, was the best man. Ushers included Jim and Steve Phelps, brothers of the groom.

A 1977 graduate of Harrisonburg High School Harrisonburg, Va., she also graduated in 1981 from the University of Missouri with a B.S. Degree in Administration of Justice. She is a member of Activities Program Board and is employed as a child care worker at the Marygrove Girl's Home.

The groom was graduated in 1978 from Granite City High School South and in 1982 from the University of Missouri at St. Louis where he earned a B.S. Degree in Public Administration. He was a member of the soccer team and Political Science Honor Society. Presently he is working as a technician for CP Air Freight.

After a wedding trip to Flagstaff, Ariz., the newlywed couple is now residing in Phoenix, Ariz. Both young people plan to attend the University of Arizona. The groom will study law and the bride will continue her education to earn a master's degree.

Silver Bells honor members

The Silver Bells Senior Citizen Club honored 15 birthday members at a monthly meeting held at the Venice Recreation Center, last week.

All those observing birthdays in June, July and August, were accorded special honors during the session. They included Aaron Spearman, Robert Wiley, Gertrude Nollie, Mary Ann Booker, Leora Howlett, Margaret Wright, Theresa Wilson, Pauline Terry, Irene Vernon, Rosalie Jackson, Margaret Shaw, and Azalee Gross.

President Marion Guest welcomed 50 members and Mrs. Ada Walker, chairman of the program committee, introduced Lessee Reeves and Janie Robinson who both sang solos. A short talk was given by Theresa Wilson and later, a guest, Grace Cooley was introduced.

During the meeting it was announced the annual Fall Tea will be held on Nov. 28 at the Venice Recreation Center with Kathleen Moore serving as chairman.

Johnson PTA to meet tonight

R. D. Johnson School PTA Unit will hold a regular membership meeting at 7 p.m. today in the school cafeteria to open the 1982-83 school year, according to Richard Brinkhoff, principal.

Students began a candy sale on Friday and will continue with the fund raising project through Monday, Sept. 20. Top prizes for those who have a total of $75 or more in sales will include an Atari, bicycle, portable television or Times Sinclair Micro computer. Many other prizes will be awarded according to student sales, the chairman explained.

Enterprise zone legislation altered

A new law will allow the creation of up to eight enterprise zones in Illinois every year for up to six years, in an effort to provide economic development for depressed areas.

In an amendatory veto message, Gov. James R. Thompson said the "Enterprise Zone Act" is a "laudable community economic initiative. Its focus is to stimulate business development and job creation in depressed areas of the state. It deserves support and improvement."

"This is a vastly improved bill over one I vetoed in the last session. Access to capital, opportunities for community residents and assistance to new or expanding businesses are available in larger measure."

"Although improved, this concept can never be a response to economic development in depressed areas. However, as an additional tool it takes on a useful and important dimension."

As part of the measure, which now returns to the legislature, the zones may exist for up to 20 years and can be up to 10 square miles in area. They are to be located in urban or rural areas of extensive poverty.

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs is to administer state efforts, including identifying "burdensome rules."

The basic protections for residents and workers in an enterprise zone are not compromised in this bill," Thompson said.

"I see no reason to undercut the basic protection of the environment or workplace safety."

In addition, special projects may be set up in the zones to use welfare and unemployment benefits, as training or wage subsidies in cases where these can be used as a tool to speed access by recipients to private business jobs.

Among the major portions of Senate Bill 1299 approved by the governor were those to:

—Allow a deduction against the state income tax for a contribution to a project conducted by a designated zone organization that creates jobs, improves housing stock, stimulates neighborhood business activity or prevents crime.

—Double the bonding authority of the Illinois Industrial Development Authority to $1 billion, with $100 million set aside in bonding authority for zone projects that would create jobs for low-income zone residents.

—Allow an income tax credit for investment in qualified property placed in service in an Enterprise Zone, including buildings and structural components of buildings.

—Allow a business income tax deduction from adjusted gross income for dividends paid by companies located in the zone. Financial institutions also could subtract interest income from loans made by taxpayers who invest in the qualified property.

—Allow a sales tax abatement for purchase of building materials for remodeling, rehabilitation or new construction in a zone. Local government would abate its portion of the sales tax, while the state would give refunds.

—Target state deposits with financial institutions doing business in a zone.

The governor's changes include:

—Broadening zone criteria and tax incentives to companies willing to start up, expand or locate in the zone.

—Eliminating two "potentially costly and questionable" tax incentives from the bill—Abatement of utility taxes on businesses in the zone and a $1,000 tax credit for zone residents hired by small businesses in the zone.

Ending a section that potentially restricts use of community development, job training and other assistance programs in the zones.

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs will be conducting six day-long workshops for communities interested in the opportunities created by the legislation.

The workshops will include a detailed explanation of the measure as well as instruction on how to apply for Enterprise Zone consideration.

Sept. 15 — Peoria Civic Center, 201 W. Jefferson, Peoria 61602.

Sept. 21 — Carbondale Holiday Inn, 800 E. Main St., Carbondale 62901.

Sept. 23 — Champaign Holiday Inn, 1505 N. Neil St., Champaign 61820.

In addition, there will be a workshop for the Chicago area in early October and one for the Madison-St. Clair counties area in mid-October.

WINNER. Angela Vasquez won first place in the talent competition in her age category at the Miss Summer Pageant in Hartford. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vasquez, 3144 Rodger Ave., she also received third in the photogenic division.

Joins Navy as 'Cardinal'

A young man from Granite City is a member of the U.S. Navy's 24th Cardinal Company.

William J. Stucker, 18, the son of Philip and Rita Stucker, 3020 Edgewood, was sworn into the Navy during formal ceremonies last week at Busch Stadium, St. Louis, where the St. Louis Cardinals played and defeated the Montreal Expos.

"The Navy looked like a good way to get an education," said Stucker, who is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Following his eight-week "boot camp" training, he will continue training for a nuclear field rating.

Swearing in the more than 75 Cardinal Company recruits was Rear Admiral James H. Flatley III, commanding officer of the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., where the Cardinal Company recruits will go through basic training together.

Stucker was recruited by ADI Donald Morelan, stationed in Granite City.

Judge assigned for Urban case

Associate Judge John Day has been chosen to hear forgery and theft charges against Ben Urban, a Collinsville attorney. The case relates to bogus court orders that were utilized to obtain cash from truck bonds.

Urban had contended that all the judges were prejudiced against him and unfit to preside over the case. Fifth Circuit Judge Paul S. Komada of Charleston filed an order in Edwardsville Tuesday that excluded five judges from the bicounty bench.

Circuit Judges Philip Rarick and William Johnson and Associate Judge Clayton Williams were excused as "material witnesses" in the case.

The names of the three judges allegedly were forged on phony court dismissal orders that resulted in improper refunds of bonds posted by drivers of overweight trucks.

Also excluded by Komada were Circuit Judges Horace Calvo and John DeLaurenti. Urban contended that he openly supported an opponent of Calvo's in a past race for appellate judge.

Urban also argued that DeLaurenti suspected him of participating in a campaign to discredit the judge, which temporarily cost DeLaurenti his job.

Urban's attorney, Marvin Goldenhersh, of Belleville, has filed a separate motion seeking a change of venue to at least 150 miles north of Madison County because of pre-trial publicity about the case.

The defense contention that heavy publicity and courthouse gossip had tainted the remaining judges' objectivity was rejected by Komada, but the change of venue motion is pending.

Urban resigned his part-time duties as Collinsville

Special education programs resume regular schedule

The first meeting for the fall session of the Parents for Special Education will be held Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 7 p.m. at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, featuring Steve Balen, Director of Special Education, as guest speaker, according to Dorothy Lijewski, president.

All parents are encouraged to attend and discuss forthcoming projects and activities of interest to the children, she added.

Parking and entry to the church is at the rear of the building. There will be a sitter service available for those who want to bring their children, the president noted.

Social activities planned for the fall include bowling which will continue every Saturday at Bowling Lanes, 550 Nameoki Road. Bus pick-ups are at 12 noon at the Press-Record parking lot, 1815 Delmar Ave. and 12:15 p.m. at the parking lot of St. John, United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road. Bowling begins at 12:30 at a cost of $1.50 for three games which includes shoes and ball. Return time is approximately 3 p.m.

The next dance will be held at the Venice Recreation Hall on Oct. 8 and be held there the second Friday of each month thereafter. Dances are also held in Alton on the fourth Friday of each month with the initial event set for Sept. 24. Donations are $1 and those 15 years of age or older are eligible to attend. Transportation arrangements can be made with Kay Hahne by calling 451-4211.

Other programs for the season will be skating at the Stardust Skating Rink, 3967 Lake Drive in Porton Beach from 8 to 9 p.m. the third Monday of the month beginning on Sept. 20. Skate rentals are 75 cents and there is no age restriction on the skaters, Mrs. Lijewski explained.

Baseball games for Madison and Venice boys over 18 meets every Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m. at Louis Baer School and girls interested in enrolling in a Girl Scout Troop are to call Mrs. Hahne.

A "Luncheon is Served" project, to benefit the Job Fair for the Handicapped, is scheduled for Oct. 1 at 11:30 a.m. Tickets costing $3 are available from Mrs. Lijewski by calling 876-0451 or Vicki Schmiedemann at 931-0683.

Other meetings of interest are the Crippled Children's Society of Granite City with meetings on the third Wednesday of the month to be held at 7 p.m. at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road; Granite City Board of Education meetings the first and third Tuesday at the board office, 20th and Adams streets at 7 p.m.; Special Education board meetings the second Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Region I office, 2000 Delmar Ave.; Tri-Cities Association for Retarded Citizens, the fourth Monday at 7 p.m. at St. John Church basement.

These meetings are open to the public, officers announce.

Parents for Special Education is a chartered non-profit organization whose main interest is promoting quality education and recreation programs for the handicapped in the Quad-City area. Meetings are held at 7 p.m. the third Tuesday of every month and are open to the public. Other officers to serve for the ensuing year are Vicki Schmiedemann, vice-president, Betsy Seitz, secretary and Ralph Redstone, treasurer.

Dawne Wood is shower honoree

A wedding shower honoring Dawne Wood was held this week at St. John United Church of Christ given by her aunts, Carol Squires and Cheryl Humphreys.

A white lace umbrella was suspended above the gift table and a bride doll dressed in white lace and a milk glass bowl decorated the gift table. As guests arrived they placed a card with their favorite recipe in the bowl which was later given to the honoree.

Miniature potato sacks filled with potatoes and tied with bright colored ribbons were given to each guest as a favor. Two larger bags, in the wedding colors, were on the buffet table which was centered with a punch bowl and candlesticks.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Tina Tyler, Diana Madison, Debbie Poole and Lena Brumlin.

The guest of honor was assisted in opening her gifts by Dana Wood, Laura Humphreys and Diana Madison, followed by a luncheon served 60 guests.

Miss Wood will become the bride of Darrell Tyler on Oct. 2 at St. John United Church of Christ.

NEW OFFICERS, of Granite City Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, preside at the initial session for the fall season held at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. From left, Leona Delaney, treasurer, Wilma Owca, secretary, Martha McIlvoy, second vice-chairman, Ann Palsgrove, first vice-chairman, and Elizabeth Schmidt, chairman.

Homemakers hear Catherine Mauck

The Granite City Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, opened its fall session of meetings at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church featuring Mrs. Catherine Mauck, extension advisor, as guest speaker.

Mrs. Mauck presented a major lesson on the subject of "Parent-Child Relationships." She discussed the topic from childhood through senior years relating many examples in site to harmony, conflict, communications, social and cultural changes, generation gap and attitudes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt and her corps of new officers conducted the session. She welcomed 24 members and introduced a guest, Veda Norton. The Homemakers' Aim was given by Ann Palsgrove followed by the pledge of allegiance.

Reports were given by Wilma Owca, secretary and Leona Delaney, treasurer and the pennies for friendship jar and birthday jar were opened for this month. Other officers to serve for the ensuing year are Ann Palsgrove, first vice-president and Martha McIlvoy, second vice-president.

The chairman reminded the members to bring their recipes and to register for the quilting classes on Sept. 30 and Oct. 14 and the clothing repair skill class on Sept. 28. All session will be held at the Farm Bureau auditorium in Edwardsville and registration closes on Sept. 15, she added.

During the meeting Josephine Uram, international chairman, gave a report on Appalachian Heritage-Southeastern Kentucky.

A dessert luncheon was served by Helen Harshany, Mary Radick and Helen Slezka. The serving table was centered with a floral arrangement flanked on each side by a school house replica and antique book on a stand. The recreation prize went to LaNell Lesage.

Mrs. Hilda Griffith will serve as hostess for the October meeting featuring a potluck luncheon and white elephant sale, the chairman noted.

The meeting adjourned with Martha Taylor reading the Homemakers' Creed.

Others attending were Alma Beckman, Bessie Grasso, Hulda Griffith, Effie Johnson, Janette Kraus, Martha McIlvoy, Anna Michels, Ann Pare, Helen Parks, Clella Schreiber, Irma Taylor, Louise Thompson, Laura Travis and Adele Wasylak.

PROMOTED IN JAPAN
James G. Jackson, son of Norma J. Jackson, 2454 Delmar Ave., has been appointed a sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

The new non-commissioned officer completed training in management, in leadership, human relations and NCO responsibilities, before being awarded this status.

Jackson is a telecommunications maintenance specialist at Misawa Air Base, Japan, with the 680th Electronic Security Group. His wife, Diane, is the daughter of Don and Dolores Parents of a Devon Hill Lane.

Business Women to launch Memberthon

Annellen Smith of Granite City, president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women, will lead a "Member-Thon" motor caravan throughout the state, starting Saturday, Sept. 18, in Carbondale.

The statewide membership drive will be launched at the annual KIM (Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri) Luncheon at 12 noon, Sept. 18.

The luncheon, involving BPW representatives from all three states, will take place in the Student Union on the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University.

Granite City BPW Club will play host to the motorcade of state federation officers on Sunday, Sept. 19, at 8 a.m. family-style breakfast at Charlie's Restaurant, according to LaVelle Stephens, chairman, and Lois Wetton, co-chairman.

Reservations for the breakfast here, costing $6 per person, will be accepted through Saturday by calling 876-4444 or 877-3448, Mrs. Stephens said.

Carl Holum of Glen Carbon, guest soloist, will offer selections of gospel music, Sharod Yount, local club president, advised.

Among those traveling with Miss Smith and the Member-Thon caravan will be: Elizabeth Mutka, BPW state president-elect; Major Bonnie Marshall, first vice president; Pat Hiatt, second vice president; Norma DeVito, secretary; Sandra Sillis, treasurer; and several state chairmen and Granite City BPW members.

In addition to the Sept. 19 breakfast in Granite City, the caravan's tentative itinerary includes:

• A reception at 3 p.m. at the SIFUC Student Union; an ice cream social at 7 p.m. Sept. 18 for District 14 clubs at the Caseyville Township Hall.

A Sunday, Sept. 19, country picnic, beginning at 12 noon, at Flora, Ill., and a 6 p.m. wine and cheese party at Robinson, Ill.

Monday, Sept. 20, a dinner party at Morris, Ill., and Tuesday, Sept. 21, breakfast at Morris, Wednesday, Sept. 22, a cocktail and hors d'oeuvre party at 5 p.m. in Rockford, followed by dinner there at 7 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 24, a potluck dinner at Westchester, Ill.; Saturday, Sept. 25, breakfast with golf and a barbecue at Beardstown. Sunday, Sept. 26, a breakfast in Springfield and a luncheon meeting at 12 noon in Rantoul, Ill.

Any person interested in learning more about BPW and its programs is invited to attend a Member-Thon event at any of the locations listed, Mrs. Stephens said.

Navy Mothers aid hospital

A donation of $25 to the Danville Naval Hospital was approved by members of the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, during a business meeting held Thursday night at the VFW Hall.

Commander Norma Danville opened the session followed by committee reports and the reading of correspondence.

A discussion was held on forthcoming annual tag day with the final date and arrangements to be announced later.

The commander announced the next social session will be held on Sept. 23 at the VFW.

During the social hour the mystery prize went to Stella Miller and other prizes were awarded to Hazel Jones, Mary Lee Busler and Verna Spurrier.

TV course registration

It's not too late to register for Belleville Area College television courses.

General psychology, introduction to data processing and the home gardener will begin this week.

Registration ends Friday, Sept. 24. However, earlier enrollment is advised, since students are responsible for making up any work they have missed, Ruth Hattem, 235-2700, extension 200, said.

More than televised lectures, the courses include on-campus testing and tours, use of student study guides and textbooks, and phone, personal or mail contact with BAC experts in each field.

Courses are aired during early morning hours and videotapes are available on Campus and at the Granite City Public Library to make viewing convenient for those who work full time.

Tuition is $10 per credit hour or $57 for each of the three-hour courses. There is an additional fee of $20 for general psychology and $15 for introduction to data processing and home gardening.

More search warrants used

As a follow-through on an ultimatum of voluntary or forced inspections, search warrants have been used to check 13 homes of Quail Valley subdivision residents for sewer violations.

The second search in recent weeks brings the total number of homes inspected in that area to 16.

The unusual measures were taken after the Madison County Special Sewer District committee decided action was needed to halt dumping of storm water into its sanitary sewer system serving portions of Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships.

Five searches — intended to spur on other residents reluctant to make inspection appointments — were conducted in July. But the first searches apparently failed to persuade some of the holdouts.

The sewer committee is anxious to halt illegal dumping, suspected of overloading district sewer lines designed to accept only sanitary sewage for transporting and treatment.

The sewage is processed at the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant. The district also is directly billing. City will change its system of treatment billing to a flow rate, rather than the present system of billing based on the number of users. Such a system would make a controlled flow particularly important, the committee notes.

District Superintendent Gene Futch was granted the second batch of search warrants, containing 18 warrants, last Tuesday.

Two sewer district personnel, accompanied by a county sheriff deputy, had completed 13 home searches by Thursday night. The remainder could not be contacted for an inspection.

Three of the five home searches in July resulted in violation allegations. But in last week's inspections, no sump pumps or lines were found in a position to indicate storm water was being diverted into county sewer lines.

In both recent searches, the basement drain — a prime spot for illegal sewage dumping — was the chief concern of the inspectors.

The superintendent was not sure what motives were behind the holdouts' refusal to permit voluntary inspections, but he said some residents may be rallying behind Pontoon Beach officials.

Village Trustee Donald Rea has refused to make an appointment for a voluntary inspection, although he said he is willing to remain in the "Zeke" Smith house not to include Rea in the recent search warrant request to Madison County Chief Circuit Judge Joseph Barr.

The delay between the first and second search warrant inspections was due in part to the reluctance shown by Judge Barr to issue the warrants without first reviewing the legal aspects with State's Attorney.

Confident now about the legality of the search warrant procedure for sewer violations, Futch repeated an earlier statement that he has targeted the Sunny Dell Acres subdivision for the next group of warrants.

In about two weeks, Futch said, the county will conduct door-to-door voluntary searches for sewer violations in that section. Search warrants will be sought against any homeowners refusing.

He calls the inspections no "sure cure" that illegal dumping will not occur in the future in those homes already inspected. "Somebody's going to have to get burned first," said Futch, referring to penalties that could be imposed against violators.

The district has decided not to press charges against the three violators discovered in the first Quail Valley inspection, since the area had been hooked up to the sewer district as a unit, and no individual has directly violated individual permit applications.

In Sunny Dell Acres, residents did apply for the permits individually and should be held responsible for any penalties involved in violations, according to Futch.

RECEIVES AWARD. William Couble of Granite City recently received a Significant Accomplishment Award from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineer District, St. Louis. Couble is chief of the Procurement and Supply Division. He received the award for his accomplishments for the St. Louis District during the first four months of 1982. During that period, Couble performed duties of high value and extended application in addition to his duties as chief of the Procurement and Supply Division, according to Colonel Robert J. Dacey, shown presenting the award to Couble.

Senior companion plan here

Belleville Area College's Programs and Services for Older Persons, 22nd and Iowa streets, has received a grant to develop a Senior Companions Program for low-income persons 60 years of age and older which will serve the Quad-City area.

Persons who qualify on the age and income basis are to be asked to volunteer 20 hours per week at a stipend rate of $2 per hour.

They also will be reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses for travel and meals while volunteering for the Senior Companions Program.

"After qualifying and receiving appropriate training, the senior companion is placed in a residence, nursing home or hospital to give companionship to an older person who needs some support or supervision in order to be able to remain in the mainstream of life," Field Coordinator Marge Hall said.

"Senior companions never administer medicine and are not permitted to do any heavy cleaning."

"Their assignments include writing letters, reading, helping prepare light meals, encouraging an interest in health hygiene, helping with a prescribed physical therapy program, assisting in home management, developing social contacts and shopping."

"This is an extremely important program for the clients who are given the companion, as well as the monetary gain received by the senior companions. The program does not affect their public aid, Social Security, Medicaid or food stamps."

"In addition to the financial assistance, they have an opportunity to be of service to those who are less fortunate, thus affording the senior companion a new sense of importance and meaningfulness to his or her life. "If you or someone you know is 60 or over and qualifies for this program, please contact me at 876-3223. We are taking applications at this time," she concluded.

Oil companies to refund overcharges

Illinois businesses and individuals who were overcharged for crude oil and petroleum products from Standard Oil of Indiana (Amoco) will receive between $50 million and $100 million in refunds from the U.S. Department of Energy as part of a settlement between DOE and Amoco.

This money, which is a portion of Amoco's settlement for overcharging Midwest customers over a six-year period, will be used to reimburse customers who have been injured because of the company's pricing practices," the governor said. "Any remaining money will be made available to the states."

Thompson said that Amoco agreed to pay $71 million to the U.S. Department of Energy in April 1980 to settle claims leveled against the corporation by customers who said they paid too much for oil products between March 6, 1973 and December 31, 1979.

Those funds were placed in an interest-bearing account and now total more than $100 million, he said.

Under the Amoco settlement, consumers and the state could receive up to $10 million based on sales figures for Illinois businesses and individuals, the governor said.

"Illinois will submit a plan to the Energy Department for expenditure of the remaining funds for programs which will provide direct assistance to energy consumers in Illinois," said Michael B. Witte, director of the Department of Energy and Natural Resources.

"Special projects to help weatherize their homes, pay utility bills, participate in ride-sharing arrangements and obtain alternative energy information are being considered," Witte said.

Under the settlement, firms and persons who used several Amoco products may be eligible for refunds. Those products include: No. 1 and No. 2 heating oil, motor gasoline, diesel fuel, aviation gasoline and jet fuel, propane and other natural gas liquids and residuals.

Retail theft charges against St. Louisans

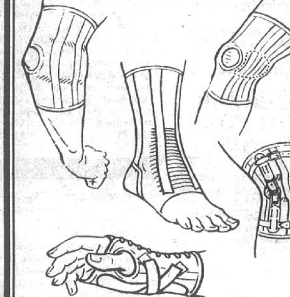

Two St. Louis men were arrested at 12:30 p.m. Saturday when a description of the vehicle they were occupying was circulated following a Granite City shopping incident, and their auto was halted by a Madison County sheriff's deputy on Route 203, just north of the Marysville road intersection.

Charged with three counts each of retail theft were Lynette A. Johnson, 37, and Charles K. Laird, 38, both of St. Louis. Johnson also was charged with not having a Firearm Owners' Identification (FOID) Card when a box of 50 hollow point .32-

Runoff for judge post

Norman H. Kinder of Granite City, a Democrat, and David J. Slack of Highland, a Republican, are finalists for a newly-created position as associate judge of the Third Judicial Circuit.

A runoff vote between the two attorneys is required because none of seven applicants for the post received a majority, five, in voting by the eight circuit judges.

Kinder and Slack received the highest vote totals. Chief Circuit Judge Joseph Barr did not disclose the precise figures. He received word of the runoff balloting plan Thursday from the Illinois Supreme Court's administrative office.

The high court has authorized a tenth associate judgeship due to the volume of court cases in this area. Ballots for the runoff probably will be received here this week from Springfield, Barr said.

The other candidates were Theodore Barylske of Granite City, Wendell Durr of Edwardsville, David Gröndes of Alton, Bruce Gröndes of Collinsville and Charles Roman Jr. of Greenville.

Kinder in the 1970s lost a close primary race for state representative. Slack won a Congressional nomination but lost in the general election to Cong. Melvin Price.

1974 AUTO GONE
John Kibbons, 2905 Roosevelt Ave., reported the theft of a 1974 white over blue Ford LTD from his house at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Trailriders to stage EOC benefit show

The third annual horse show to benefit the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) will be sponsored Sunday, Sept. 26, by the Trailriders Club of Granite City.

The event will take place in the Trailriders arena on Chouteau Slough Road near Route 203 and the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

Cathy Kinnard of the Madison County EOC staff said 18 events are planned, including haltering and pleasure, speed and novelty riding.

For a single entry fee of $6, a rider may enter one or all of the events. Spectators will be charged a 75-cent admission fee.

"We've had excellent cooperation this year from the Trailriders and the local community," Mrs. Kinnard said.

For the second consecutive year, an Alton businessman is donating the trophies. Lois Kasper of Edwardsville has offered her services as a show judge.

Additional information concerning the show and sponsorship is available by calling Debbie Groeteka or Mrs. Kinnard at 1-463-0025.

$6,824 burglary at GC dwelling

In a burglary at the home of Mrs. Edna Green, 2452 Illinois Ave., reported at 10 p.m. Friday, the thieves stole jewelry, cash and other items valued in excess of $6,824.

Mrs. Green arrived home to find the rear door open and the house ransacked, she told police.

Immediately determined as missing from the dwelling were a console television valued at $800; between $400 and $500 in cash; several pairs of grubby glasses in gold and silver eyeglass frames, worth $800; assorted jewelry, $250; a pair of binoculars, $70; a sweeper, $500; and other jewelry items with an appraised value of $4,100, official reports stated.

Arrest driver on DUI charge

After receiving several calls about an allegedly erratic driver on East 23rd Street last week, officers arrested Royce A. McWilliams, 44, of 2424 Delmar Ave. at 23rd Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving after his license had expired and driving while his license was suspended.

McWilliams in a court appearance entered a plea of innocent. Bond was set at $3,000 and he was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

FINE AND PROBATION ON AMENDED CHARGE

John W. Douglas, 46, of 2116 Ohio Ave. has been placed on one year of probation and has been fined $700 plus $70 court costs by Circuit Judge Philip Rarick.

A charge of burglary in the unincorporated area of Madison County was filed on April 23 and then was amended to petty theft. The sentence was ordered in the Third Judicial Circuit during August.

GIRL, 13, CHARGED
A girl, 13, was arrested outside the National Guard armory here for disorderly conduct. She allegedly used her fists to strike and injure Debbie Doza, 2208r Missouri Ave., about the nose, lips and jaw.

7 years for jail escape

The maximum seven-year prison term was ordered Thursday by Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick for Jeffrey A. Taylor, 26, Bethalto.

He pleaded guilty to escaping from the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville, squawking through a small opening in screening above an outdoor exercise yard about 10 p.m. Monday.

He was captured 24 hours later by a South Roxana policeman who saw him walking along Illinois Route 111.

Rarick, chief criminal judge, noted past burglary and drug cases involving Taylor and said a severe sentence was needed to deter future escape attempts by others.

Taylor, a trusty, scaled a 12-foot wall to become the first inmate to escape from the new jail since it was opened two years ago.

He was charged with burglary counts and a contempt of court charge. Taylor had been in jail awaiting trial since April 25. He was charged along with a Granite City man as being part of a $1 million stolen property ring broken up earlier this year.

He may be turned over to St. Louis County authorities for prosecution on burglary charges there.

Taylor was in the yard alone at the time of the escape because a jailer had to deliver medicine to other prisoners. He had been granted time in the exercise yard to cool off, as a reward for good behavior, the main corridor in the jail, Major Erwin Knezevich said.

A wire canopy over the top of the exercise yard had been newly completed, and the jail staff was developing a policy for utilization of the yard while allowing it to be visited by trusties.

The wire mesh fence material atop the wall was torn because a jailer had been in one corner, allowing Taylor to squeeze through while pulling the canopy loose. He then slipped through the covering to an alley outside the jail.

The yard dropped was installed in June at a cost of $53,500 and was designed not only to prevent escapes but also to keep weapons and other objects from being thrown into the jail from the outside.

The flat design is not the type originally sought by Sheriff Emil Toffant. Maj. Knezevich said, "We asked for a dome covering but were told it would be too expensive."

He added that mild discipline may be ordered for the jailers who erred by ignoring established procedures.

Taylor left behind a note to the jail superintendent, apologizing for violating the officer's trust in him. He said personal problems had been building up and prompted him to flee.

The 24 hours were spent without food, hiding in weeds and sleeping in weeds. He suffered many insect bites.

CHARGED WITH DUI

Donald G. McNeely, 34, of Marine, Ill., was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol (DUI) and improper lane usage at 10:40 p.m. Friday at Nameoki Road and Washington Avenue.

An officer alleged seeing McNeely's vehicle strike the curbing at Nameoki Road and driving on the shoulder and continue to drive on, despite two flat tires on the left side. Officers alleged that the vehicle weaved from side to side.

Doctors' role

Tolerance and antibiotics

Q. I have cystic fibrosis, and the only medication which seems to be effective is tobramycin. Are there any stronger drugs in this class being developed? I am afraid my body will build up a tolerance to the drug, and that it will eventually cease to be effective. — B.E., Harbor City, Calif.

A. The question that you asked is one that is frequently asked by people who have chronic infections such as cystic fibrosis, and it is an important question in understanding the principles of antibiotic treatment in chronic infections of many sorts.

In conditions such as cystic fibrosis, it may become increasingly difficult over time to effectively treat the deep-seated infection. There is always some infection present and the need for antibiotics changes as the level of infection increases or decreases. The increasing difficulty that you may have experienced may be due to resistance to antibiotics developed by the bacteria causing your infection. It is important to understand that the resistance is not the resistance or tolerance of your body, which serves only to transport the antibiotics through the blood stream to the site of the bacterial infection.

When bacteria develop resistance to an antibiotic that is being used, it becomes necessary to either change to an antibiotic to which bacteria are not resistant, or use a combination of antibiotics to overcome the resistance. The choice of antibiotics may be limited for some bacterial infections, but new antibiotics are being developed by pharmaceutical research in this country and abroad, and, after suitable testing first in animals and in patients, are made available for routine use in treating infections in the general public.

The choice of antibiotics and dosage is determined by your physician, after isolating the bacteria present in a culture in the laboratory and then testing each of the different bacteria against different concentrations of a variety of antibiotics, to pick the one most effective against your particular infection.

Your concerns about tolerance and resistance are justified, but frequently, worsening occurs because antibiotics are blocked from reaching the infection by searing, not because of tolerance or resistance developed by bacteria. You should discuss these concepts with your physician who can apply the specifics of your particular situation. — Dr. Ivan Harwood, associate professor of pediatrics and director of the Cystic Fibrosis Center at the University of California, San Diego School of Medicine.

Q. I would like to know if vitamin E causes high blood pressure and if brewer's yeast should be avoided by people with hypertension? Also, what is vitamin B-5? — M.L., Riverside, Calif.

A. A few physicians have encountered patients with hypertension that seems to be the resistance or tolerance of your body, which serves only to transport the antibiotics through the blood stream to the site of the bacterial infection.

Brewer's yeast should be avoided by people with hypertension. The diet recommended for hypertension is low in sodium and high in potassium, and brewer's yeast meets both of these criteria.

Pantothenic acid is sometimes referred to as vitamin B-5. — Joyce Knott, dietitian at the University of California, San Diego School of Medicine.

Questions should be made to the UCSD School of Medicine, Public Affairs Office, M-002, La Jolla, CA 92093. Detailed medical histories are necessary for appropriate and individual diagnoses cannot be made. Send questions of general interest only.

Resolution to review judges

By RAY SERRATI

SPRINGFIELD — Sen. John E. Groberg would like to look at the way judges carry out their work, but it looks doubtful that he will get his wish at least for the time being.

The St. Charles Republican has introduced in the senate a resolution calling for the formation of a joint committee which would review the manner in which judges do their job.

To get this done, Groberg introduced a resolution in the Senate. But it got held up in the Senate Executive Committee. It got stalled in the committee and wasn't even called for a hearing. Of course, it could come up during the fall veto session, which will meet after the November election.

"It is an idea whose time has come," Groberg said. "Some of the individual judges make laws."

Under the Groberg proposal the legislative committee would have 12 members, six from the Senate and six from the House. And two members from each chamber would have to be members of the Illinois bar. The committee would have the power to conduct hearings and make reports to the General Assembly.

Groberg feels the committee is needed because presently the legislative committee conducts polls among the individual members to determine if an individual is qualified for election or retention on the bench and the legislative committee would balance the polls.

Presently there is the Judicial Advisory Council which has lawmakers and members of the public on its membership. But the Groberg proposal would be completely independent of the Advisory Council.

Groberg feels that if he can't get the resolution out of the committee in the fall session, he plans to reintroduce the proposal at the next General Assembly which will convene in January.

The veteran lawmaker points out the proposal is the outgrowth of recent judicial rulings which he feels could be encroaching upon the area of the General Assembly.

At the present time the Judicial Inquiry Board and the Courts Commission checks into alleged judicial misconduct.

Groberg feels that his proposal will get additional support if it is held up until next year.

CHARGED WITH DUI

Denise J. Werner, 27, of 2807 Circle Drive, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after proper lane usage and not having a valid license when arrested at 2:55 a.m. Saturday in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue. A Madison officer alleged seeing the northbound auto swerving and strike the median. The driver allegedly was unsure of his footing when asked to alight from the car. Werner consented to take a breathalyzer test. Bond was set at $302 and he remained in custody Sunday.

PRESERVATIONISTS' GOAL

Here today, still here tomorrow

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — In downtown Springfield, where the Abraham Lincoln hotel once stood, is a parking lot; across the street, where a theater once stood, is another parking lot. The hotel and the theater were crashed to rubble a few years ago in anticipation of construction of a state courts complex which, it seems now, will not be built.

In downtown Chicago, where the classic Courtland designed by Louis Sullivan stood only a little over a decade ago, is an 11-story glass and aluminum box, a cheap, badly designed building which was in receivership within a year and a half after it was built because it couldn't find enough occupants.

These incidents upset William Farrar, chief of staff services in the division of historic sites for the state conservation department.

"It bothers me," he says, "to lose a building for a stupid reason." "Stupid reasons" the destruction of something handsome, functional, often with sounder construction and greater energy efficiency than contemporary structures, "to create another vacant lot, or to put up something in its place that won't be as good."

Some property owners are capable of such stupidity, Farrar feels, but he saves his real wrath for usually sacrosanct public buildings — government, universities, and not-for-profit institutions like hospitals.

"Universities," he said, "are supposed to be the keepers of the flame, the source of appreciation. And what do they do? Over and over they move in and wipe out whole blocks, so they can build something else in its place. Hospitals do it, too. They demolish buildings, to make parking lots."

Farrar is no dreamy fantasist, out of touch with the realities of the dollar and the market place; it worries him, he says, that the state's historic preservation law gives so powerful an economic "hammer" to those charged with fostering preservation of the past.

Effective Jan. 1, 1977, the state preservation act created a 15-member board of experts and specialists who review applications for inclusion in the state Register of Historic Places, created by the same act. They also pass on applications for inclusion in the federal Register.

The act provides for fines up to $10,000 for willfully altering or destroying a site included in the Illinois Register.

"It means," he says, "we'll tell you if you can apply aluminum siding or not; we'll tell you if you can or cannot paint it green. That's a lot of authority to have over someone else's property; I'm not comfortable with that."

At least in part because of the legal questions inherent in the process, the advisory board has moved with care and deliberation in accepting nominations. As of June 1981 there were only 16 sites on the Register. Since then no new ones have been added though three are now under consideration.

The owners of the three sites under study all strongly oppose placing the structures on the Register, Farrar said, and says he has some doubts they will be included. They represent the first time, he says, that really strong owner resistance has been met.

The three are three-story buildings located adjacent to each other in a prime, lakeside location near the Oak Street Beach in Chicago.

"This is a real monetary issue," says Farrar. "I'm aware of that."

Farrar feels a more appropriate course is represented by the federal Register of Historic Sites, compiled by the National Park Service in the Department of the Interior.

While the federal register lacks the clout of the Illinois register to impose actual penalties for violations, it serves the function of providing an inventory of sites, encourages voluntary cooperation through a series of tax incentives (and some disincentives) and bars use of federal money on any project which would destroy or alter any site on the register.

Under the current federal administration, the program has been unfunded in initial federal budgets for the last two years, but "we went to Congress and we won" last year, Farrar says, "and this year, we again we have zero dollars, the outlook seems as good, or better, than last year. I'm confident we will at least have some money this year's level."

That level is hardly a budget-breaker, the total funding for the program was $21 million. Last year, Illinois' share was about $380,000, most of which went for staff and some survey grants for inventory of sites.

"We could show," he said, "it would cost the feds at least twice as much—$42 million instead of $21 million, to do what we do, and they'd do it with an efficiency factor down by three."

"Since 1970, we've been a model of federalism, because we've put up with all the people talking about federalism now even know what it was."

The federalism Farrar sees involves a partnership between the states and the federal government "with the states doing most of the work," under a federal mandate.

"For every $1 we've gotten from the feds," he said, "the states have put up $9."

In Illinois, that $9 initially often came from private foundations; later it also came from state funds.

While Farrar doesn't conceal his general disapproval of "glass and aluminum boxes" as an architectural form, he isn't toooting merely saving empty structures to keep them empty structures.

"What we have to do," he said, "is encourage people to consider the options — save these buildings for some other use, if not their original use."

He approves plans, such as those carried out in recent years in Pittsburgh, where an abandoned orate railway passenger station was restored to its original grandeur and has become a popular dining place. A downtown bank in Pittsburgh (appropriately called "The Bank") is now a complex featuring retail and restaurants, as well as offices and shops — even one located in the former vault.

"People are doing that all over the country," he said. "Fortunately, in the last few years the economy has turned things around so it's now more economical to convert an old building than to tear it down and build something else in its place."

The destruction of the Chicago Stock Exchange, which he calls "the classic example" of pointless waste of a landmark structure, "wouldn't happen today. When people object to tearing it down, some people said 'What are we supposed to do, make it a museum?' Of course they weren't supposed to, they could have made it an office building — the state could have put offices in it. They did that in Missouri with great success."

The buildings are there in quantity, he feels, needed now are investors with the imagination and foresight to put their money into the past, for the sake of the present and the enjoyment of the future.

State plans garden lead level tests

Vegetation samples taken in Granite City by state environmental technicians checked for possible lead content in gardens have not proven technically successful. More tests will be taken, perhaps later this week, James J. Maloney, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency spokesman, said today.

The next sampling is expected to involve four to five times the vegetation previously taken and may involve door-to-door canvassing of residents located between Taracor Industries, 16 Street and Cleveland Boulevard, and the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel.

Comparison samples also will be taken at other sites farther away from the 15th Street and Madison Avenue air monitor, which recorded excessively high lead readings for the ending three months last year. High lead readings have been recorded at the site for about five years.

Today, the air pollution control official said a decision will be made in the next few days on the exact type and number of vegetation samples to be taken. A problem facing the IEPA testers at this time of year is that local gardens "are pretty well depleted."

The state agency plans to consult with experts to determine if canned and frozen foods prepared from gardens grown in the high lead readings area will give valid results.

Some residents in the area have already contacted the Springfield air control center about volunteering samples from local gardens.

Water supply samples also will be included in the latest lead testing plan, according to Maloney.

Fall Sports Special

Here it is! The much talked about Granite City Press-Record Fall Sports Special. On the following pages are, what we at the Press-Record believe, to be the most complete, comprehensive collection of prep sports reporting in the area.

It is our intent to provide you, our readers, with more than the traditional fall sports reporting. In addition to football and soccer, the fall sports special includes season information on girls' tennis, volleyball, golf and cross country teams.

Preparation of the supplement started in mid-summer when assignments were discussed and lay-outs were designed. While most of the city slumbered, the sports staff stayed at work burning the proverbial midnight oil. We believe the effort was well worth the end result.

We hope you will keep the supplement and refer to it as a guide for scheduled games and player positions. It will also be interesting at the end of the seasons to see how accurate predictions were about strengths and weaknesses of teams.

The following people reported, photographed and wrote the contents of the supplement:

Alan L. Gerstenecker: Sports editor and fearless leader of the sports staff. This was Gerstenecker's first experience with the GC sports supplement. In the days prior to the supplement's printing, Gerstenecker walked around like a zombie, raving like a madman, but at last the job was complete and he could go home — if he could remember where he lived.

Nancy Weil: reporter and photographer. Miss Weil joined the Press-Record as a sports reporter in June. She graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and started a full-time general news job with the Press-Record in August. Although she will primarily cover news, her byline will continue to sneak into the sports section on occasion.

Roger Kramer: reporter and photographer. Kramer has been with the Press-Record sports staff for almost a year and eagerly pursues each assignment with camera in hand. A student at SIUE, Kramer will graduate in December and then hopes to find full-time employment. Incidentally, Kramer did much of his assigned work on this supplement as he was taking classes and an internship at United Press International in St. Louis.

Mike Moore: reporter and photographer. A recent Granite South graduate, Moore joined the Press-Record as a part-time reporter in June. He will attend SIUE in the fall where he will pursue a degree in something or other, possibly journalism.

The Press-Record also wishes to thank our advertisers. Without them the sports special could never have been possible.

Special thanks goes to the advertising department.

Last, but of course not least, we thank our production crew, who gallantly put up with a frazzled sports staff during the final days of preparing the supplement.

We wish all of the teams the best of luck during the respective seasons.

Warrior netters are 'very thin on talent'

We're very thin on talent. We're also young and inexperienced, but we are building for the future," said Paul Greve, coach of Granite City High School South girl's tennis team. With four talented freshman, Greve thinks the future for South's girls' tennis looks good.

As for the present South girls' tennis number one player, Dina Lombardi, is definitely not "thin on talent," Miss Lombardi will be leading the team.

"Dina is my best player! She's much stronger and more experienced than last year and I expect her to do well," Greve said.

Last year Miss Lombardi won the most improved player award.

"My personal goal is for me to do the best I can at singles. I don't like doubles, there's too much pressure," Miss Lombardi said. Although Miss Lombardi does not favor doubles, she partners with freshman Andrea Suarez. "Andrea is good, we make a good team. We can read each other well," she continued.

"South is rebuilding this year, but improving over last year," Greve added. South finished its season last year with only one win and 13 losses.

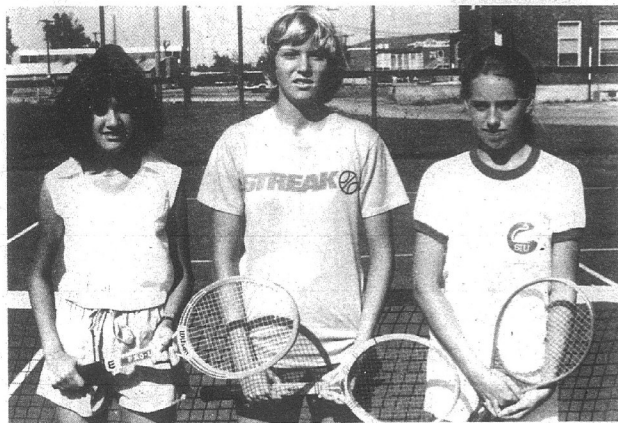

Miss Lombardi agrees with Greve that this year is mainly for experience. "This year will be better than last year," Miss Lombardi said.

letter winners Nancy Jones, senior; Laura Smolar, junior; Sandy Hagen, junior and Mary Roth, sophomore will play on the team.

Miss Jones competed in districts last year playing doubles with Gloria Milanis. Greve's rebuilding plans for the future include four promising freshmen: Miss Suarez, Linda Briner, Dawn Bowers, and Tammy Knight.

Lori Martin is making her debut on the tennis team.

Miss Jones will play singles and doubles with Dawn Bowers, while Laura Smolar and Sandy Hagen will make the other doubles team. Linda Briner will play singles.

"We should be better this season, and maybe even good next year," Greve said.

This year is Greve's second year coaching at South and the girls enjoy his technique of coaching.

"He's a good coach and a lot of fun. I like him. His practices are harder than last year, but that's for the best," Miss Lombardi said. At a practice Greve has his girls running relay races with tennis balls.

"I think the team goal is to beat North," Lombardi said. South goes against North Oct. 12 at home at 4 p.m.

The netters go up against Collinsville Sept. 16 at home at 4 p.m.

North tennis team is 'a good bunch of players'

Larry Lipe begins his first year as Granite City North's girls' tennis coach this fall, and he hopes this first year will be a good one.

Lipe, however, is worried that that he won't live up to his predecessor, Judy Ward.

"Judy Ward is a tough act to follow. If our team was as good as hers was last year, then I'll be very happy with it," Lipe said.

On the other hand, Lipe is confident the team will do well. The Steelers have 20 girls out for tennis, so the problem for Lipe is picking a starting line-up.

Five seniors and three sophomores make up the nucleus of the Steelers tennis team. Senior Tracy Hadley is North's top player, and Angela Ashcraft, Kim Smith, Sondra Sonderlik and Connie Uzonoff are the other seniors.

Sophomores Sherri Ousley, Angela Pinkston and Beth Suess are serious contenders for the top four singles positions.

Sophomores Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz are also serious contenders for the top singles spots.

"They just happen to be a group of good tennis players," Lipe said. "They did pretty good as freshmen, and they've been improving. I think it's important that the girls go out their freshman year so that they get a good start."

Other girls who should help out the Steelers include seniors Rebecca Bassoo, Sondra Brown and Yvonne Dagon, juniors Gail Gant and Lisa Harrell, sophomores Robyn Norlan, Pam Nolan and Lisa Jones, and freshmen Kim Antonovich and Marla Schrader.

Lipe, an art teacher at Prather Junior High, needed some help in his first year, and he got it. David Lipe and Scott Dennis, who both play for the boys' tennis team, have helped Lipe coach the large team.

"Being a first year coach, I asked for and received a lot of help. These boys have made us a stronger team. Their presence has made a difference," Lipe said.

Hadley and Ousley should make up the top doubles team, and Schwartz and Parra are the likely pairing for the second doubles team. With the evenness of talent on the Steelers, that is likely to change. "Our doubles ought to be stronger than our singles," Lipe said.

The Steelers lost all four of their top singles players from last season.

"We've got to be a rebuilding team this year. I'm new, and the girls haven't had that much varsity experience. I'm optimistic though," Lipe said.

"I'm really enjoying it. They're a good group of girls, and going to practice is something I look forward to everyday, and I think they do too," Lipe said.

Warrior kickers eye sixth state championship

Granite City South soccer coach Gene Baker makes no attempt to hide the fact that he wants to win a sixth state tournament.

After five consecutive championships, from 1976 to 1980, South did not compete at state last year after loosing to Collinsville 1-0 in the sectional title game. The only other time South did not compete in the state tournament was in 1974 when Gateway East Conference arch rival, North, defeated the Warriors after double overtime on penalty kicks.

This year, however, Baker believes South is as strong as ever. What's more, the team is one has enjoyed working with "as much as any other."

There is an encompassing attitude of comradery among the players and Baker has termed the team "a class bunch of kids."

With 13 returning lettermen, most of whom are seniors, Baker will be losing a large number of starters next year. In a situation he generally does not like to have, but for this year at least South should be strong.

Offensively, the Warriors move the ball well and have good control with Fritz Brewer, Bill Hency, Nathan Crane, Phil Popmarkoff and Barry Grote on the front line. Halfbacks Tony Segobiano, John Menendez and Matt Sheridan control the midfield and assist the front line.

WARRIOR RETURNEES.

A strong contingent of returning lettermen will form the nucleus of the Granite City High School South soccer team. Returnees are: front row beginning left, Barry Grote,

Defensively, Jim Gibson, Jim Crews, and goaltender Jeb Blasingame hold down the fort. Sam Mendoza, Phil Harizal, Brent Cook, Mike Houston, Paul Macios and Mike Sikora round out the team. Ken Paz, who is recovering from a broken leg, also returns from last year.

In preparation for a possible trip to the state tournament, the Warriors will face some difficult teams.

"I think it's the best schedule we've ever had," Baker said.

Thursday through Sunday, South competed at the Glenbrook North Tournament in suburban Chicago. In October, the Warriors will host the second annual Tournament of Champions.

"We're a tournament team," Baker has said. For South, he believes it is imperative to include tournaments in the schedule. "I feel when we get to state it's all gravy beyond that," he said.

It is expected by Baker that South will "progress through the season" much like past years.

As a team of unparalleled success, Baker points to having "good players" and "breaks at the right time."

Although the majority of the season remains, Baker is adamant about one goal: working toward state. Aiming for No. 6.

For the Trojanettes, it's a rebuilding year

Madison High School girls' tennis coach Terry Beer is counting on his team's enthusiasm and willingness to learn the game to be a "driving force" this year for the young Trojanette netters.

Enthusiasm, he says, is his team's forte as they open the season against Waterloo tomorrow in Waterloo. Last year, in Beer's first season as the Trojanettes helmsman, the Trojanettes finished the season 0-10. Beer, not a newcomer to the game, played and coached tennis at Eureka College in Missouri.

This year's edition of the Trojanette netter team is young and inexperienced. Despite their shortcomings, Beer's optimistic about the girls' talents.

"We're not nearly as experienced as we were last year," Beer said, "but I'm confident the girls can win. The desire is there, they want to win."

The Trojanettes lost to graduation all but three players from last year's netter squad. Only Yalanda Bradley, Linda Franklin and Judy Davenport return — last year's Trojanette number three singles player and their number two doubles team. Newcomers to the squad include Cathy Ball, Alisha Roberts, Tosha Carter and Darla Taylor. The Trojanettes open their season tomorrow, Sept. 14, against Waterloo in Waterloo. Matches begin at 4 p.m.

Warrior spikers look to improve their game

If this year's team improves its service receiving and passing of free balls, the offense will automatically improve. This is more or less our team goal for the season," said Wilma Schulze, Granite City High School South's volleyball coach.

"If the girls accomplish this, they will win more matches than last year," Miss Schulze added. Last year South spikers finished with a record of 9-16. Schulze explained that the losses were due to the fact that last year's team was a "poor passing team." The overall team record is 91-73.

A good setter on a team is an asset and we have one of the best setters in the area, Allison Boyd," Miss Schulze said.

"We're much more experienced and once we get going we'll do better," Miss Boyd said. Miss Boyd, captain of the team, has been playing volleyball for South for four years.

Schulze is optimistic about her team because it is basically comprised of "older and more experienced players." Last year's team had only two seniors playing on the team, Julie DeRuntz and Cheryl Krug.

There are six returning lettermen including seniors Trish Skinner-11, spiker; co-captain Gina Graham-7, spiker; captain Miss Boyd-6, setter; Diane Waltenberger-12, spiker; Theresa Soellner-4, setter-spiker and junior Vicki Smith-3, spiker-setter.

Remaining varsity players include Bibi Christoff-8, Jeanie Dodson-5 and Anne Puhse-2.

Miss Waltenberger and Miss Skinner are the only tall girls on the team. "Therefore most of us have some trouble spiking," Miss Boyd said.

"The team's weakest points are the lack of constant spiking power at the net," Schulze commented.

Another problem Schulze foresees is the team's passing abilities. "This year's team will have to spend a lot of time practicing their passing. In the past Granite South has always had a good passing team," Schulze said.

"We've been practicing alot of service receiving," Miss Graham said. This is Miss Graham's fourth year playing volleyball for South, also.

"We need more support from our fans at the games," Miss Boyd said.

Steelers

Steeler spikers are stronger than last year

We have a solid team with a strong bench as well as a good starting lineup," said Paula Wise, coach of Granite City High School North's girls' volleyball team.

Miss Wise says she thinks this year's Steeler volleyball team will be stronger than last year's.

"We have several returning letter winners and many other girls who played some varsity last year," Miss Wise stated.

Returning lettermen include co-captain Lisa Lilley, spiker; Trina Davis, spiker; Cindy Minner, setter; Michelle Morgan, setter and Tammy Evans, spiker.

One of the biggest problems the Steelers are facing early in the season is the fact that they cannot use their home court. During the winter season, the snow piled on the roof and weakened it. Any activity in the gym is dangerous, so the spikers are playing home games on different courts than they practice on. The roof is currently under repair and should be ready for play soon, a North spokesman said.

The gym situation is going to be the biggest problem," Wise said. After the repair work is completed, that problem will out of the way. But as for now, the spikers are practicing at Grigsby Junior High School and they are playing home games at Granite City High School South's gym.

Other varsity players include Trisha Atkinson, captain Chris Beyer, Nancy McClew, Michelle Sikora, Kim Michelle, Jill Werths and Debbie Brandt.

This is Miss Wise's first year coaching North volleyball or any volleyball team for that matter. Miss Wise is a substitute teacher for the school district. Connie King is the assistant coach of the girls.

The success of this year's Granite City North soccer team depends on how well the backfield does.

With most of the Steeler's experience on the forward line and at midfield, coach Bob Kehoe is looking toward his backfield to pull the team, which he believes has "good potential," together.

North already has played six games, including a 5-1 loss to Quincy — the worst loss ever to an Illinois team in the 10-year history of Steeler soccer. But after the first three games, Kehoe was noting improvement and looking for advancement in the passing game.

Kehoe said that players often lose sight that 10 field players are in the game "because there is a vast amount of ground to cover."

But dribbling too much slows the game down, he said.

The forward line is strong and fast, Kehoe said, which should make for good offensive play.

Kehoe will probably look to Benny Nolan and Derek Merz on the front line to keep the ball moving. Both are capable players. Nolan scored both goals in North's 2-0 victory over Edwardsville and Merz put in the first goal against Cahokia.

Brian Levin will probably be relied on to fill the center spot at midfield with Doug Thornburg at right and the left spot open, although Kehoe had been leaning toward Gary Sikora. Tim Dean, an exceptionally good ball handler, and Dave Sheikh, also a good player, will round out the halfback-front line.

In the all-important backfield, Kehoe had depended on Steve Trittschuh to keep the defense together. A player of experience and exceptional talent, Trittschuh injured his right ankle in the Quincy game and was sidelined for three following games.

After Trittschuh's injury, Kehoe started Dave Baggott, Colin Davis, Sam Tate and Jim Burton in the backfield. Prior to the season's beginning, Kehoe said that other than Trittschuh, Burton would be the only back with some experience, having played a "utility role" in the past.

"The rest (of the backs) are kind of inexperienced," he said. However, the defense has started to play better as they gain experience together.

In goal, Kehoe will depend on Rick Branding, a talented goalkeeper who has spent the last three or four summers at camp honing his skill and technique. Kehoe believes Branding "is one of the best, if not the best goalkeeper in the area." That assessment certainly is accurate.

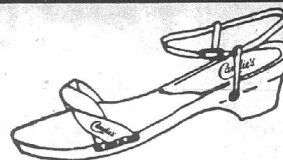

North faces some tough opponents this year, both from Missouri and Illinois, but should maintain its position as a strong soccer power.

Trojans hoping to continue winning streak

Gene Briggs, Madison High School soccer coach, is hoping his team will start this season as well as they finished last year — on a winning streak.

The team has one major objective in mind: to improve. "Our goal is to improve and the only way we can do that is to play good teams."

Games against Belleville Althoff and O'Fallon, a team that has started to trouble some of the perennial powers, should help the Trojans to develop a grasp of what it is like to compete against good teams.

The soccer team at Madison has existed for six years and Briggs is the only coach the Trojans have had. In a town that traditionally is known for basketball, Madison should begin to come into its own light in soccer.

The team faces one major disadvantage because there is no youth program in Madison and the players often have not played before high school.

But this can be overcome Briggs believes, through the returning lettermen who are of good physical condition. "We have a lot of varsity experience," he said.

The team also has good strength. "We worked the weights really hard," Briggs said. The stature of several of the players could be intimidating to the opposition. "When we walk on the field people will know we're there," he said. The Trojans also have good speed and combined with strength and endurance could cause problems for some teams.

Defensively, the team is strong with the backfield composed mostly of upperclassmen. Derrick Newsome, Micheal Young and Gary Campbell, all juniors will provide the nucleus of the defense. DeLoyd Williams is a sophomore defenseman who should help the team a great deal.

John Lewis, a senior, will provide experience in the center striker slot. Derrick Jackson, a senior, will also help on offense.

Mark Martinez is a freshman player and Briggs believes he could "see some action" during the season because he has experience having played in youth leagues.

Mark Mainridge also will be on the offense. In midfield, Briggs is looking for Maurice Silas to be a key player. Mike Young and Morris Ricketts will also figure in the Trojan strategy.

Robert Bishop, a senior who played last year, is fighting for the goalkeeper position with LeRoy Pryor.

Trojanette spikers take the good with bad

Madison's girls' volleyball team has some good and some bad news. Coach Carole Stearns-Cole is hoping the good news will cast a shadow over the bad and help make this Madison girls' volleyball season one of the best.

First the good news: "We finally have basically all tall players on the varsity team," Cole said.

Now for the bad news: "We have several players who are upper classmen, but it is their first year out for volleyball. There is a lack of experience," Cole said.

Although Madison volleyball is inexperienced, Cole said, "This year's is going to be one of the better teams Madison has had in the past five years."

Cole has not picked the varsity team. "I have a pretty good idea who will play varsity, though," Cole said.

Five lettermen from last year are returning to assist in making this year one of the best, according to coach Cole.

Returning lettermen are Lenora Williams-18, hitter-setter; Ruth Jackson-17, hitter-setter; Mia Jenkins-19, hitter-setter; Regina Banks-21, hitter-setter and Stephanie Walker-15, hitter-setter.

Other girls on the team include Robin Brown, Tonja Avila, Joann Bisto, Sonya Bennett, Lisa Prothro, Diana Kemp, Kim Goes, Jerriann Ware, Rose Clay, Carol Zarr, Angelette Dandridge, Angelia Riley, Abigail Heard and Kathy Zabolka.

Venice spikers are young, but look to future

The Venice High School girls volleyball team should be good in 1982, but the team will be even better in 1983.

Why is Venice coach Ken Perkins so optimistic about the future of volleyball at the school? Simply because the Red Devils have 10 sophomores and five freshmen out for the team.

By contrast, only three seniors and two juniors are on the varsity team this year. Perkins thinks awareness of Title IX has positively affected the turnout and quality of girls sports.

"At first, we just got the jocks out, and the other girls didn't go out because they thought they couldn't play. Now, the girls know they have a right to be in sports."

"The girls are coming out to see if they can play, and they say 'By golly, I can play volleyball,' and they turn out to become good players," Perkins said.

This year, the seniors and juniors will make many of the contributions, but the sophomore girls hold the future of Venice volleyball.

Seniors Elaine Parker and Lynette Crawford were part-time starters last year and will start for Venice. Another senior, Sherri Virginia, should see some action.

Junior Jackie Chatman, a two year letter winner, is a top spiker, and Letitia Miller, at 5-10 could be a top spiker, but she has not attended many practices because of a conflict between practice and work.

"Crawford has become a floor leader for us. She really matured over the past year, and it's carried to volleyball. She's really taking charge on the court. If she can keep her head when she makes a mistake, she'll be a good leader," Perkins said.

A trio of sophomores will be among the top seven. Cassandra White will be one of Venice's top spikers.

Rosie Harmon will be one of the better servers, and Demetria Walker should see some action.

Other sophomores who should help out are Teresa Petty, Kim Bell and Angela Marchbanks.

One problem the Red Devils have is not having a good setter. "To be a good setter, you have to go crazy and be all over the floor. Rosie and Lynette could be go setters if they learn to go all over the court," Perkins said.

Trojans

Trojans look for change

If the Madison High School varsity football team is nearly as positive about this season as its head coach Alvin VonderHaar, the Trojan gridgers are a sure bet to improve on last year's 2-8 record.

"We're experiencing an attitude change," VonderHaar said. "These kids are going to win this year. I think they're tired of getting pushed around," he said.

VonderHaar partially attributes the change in Trojan gridger attitude to the present attitude of his coaching staff.

"We've pumped them up and told them they can win. Now they're getting out on the practice field and finding out, 'Hey, I'm not so bad. Maybe we can win,'" VonderHaar said.

This is VonderHaar's third year as gridger coach of the Trojans since returning to the position he left in 1968 for another coaching job at Roosevelt High School in St. Louis.

One reason for VonderHaar's optimism this year are his returning letterwinners. The Trojans have 14 returning to this year's squad. Among them are Shawn Brown, who will vie with Victor Valentine for the starting quarterback's position as well fill a vacancy in the Trojan backfield. Other returning lettermen to the squad include Richard Butler, Kelly Scrum and Allan Boyd in the offensive backfield.

On the offensive line this season, the Trojans will play center Jerry Bush or Jeff Bridick, Walter Davis and Sam Price at left and right tackle.

In the defensive backfield A. C. Ware will head the linebackers corps, while Charles Fuller and Shawn Brown will double as defensive backs.

The Trojans are already looking past Brees to their second game Assumption. That game will be played a week from Saturday, Sept. 25, against Assumption.

Steelers

North gridders hope to keep tradition alive

The 1982 football season will be the tenth season of Granite City North football, and the Steelers have a tradition which they want to maintain.

Tom Wyrostek, the only head coach the Steelers have had, has led North to a 48-36-1 in the Steelers' first nine years. Since 1973, the Steelers have been to the I.H.S.A. playoffs two times — in 1974 and 1981.

"I don't need to say whether we have a football tradition. It's all there in black and white," Wyrostek said. "At North, we've always had some awfully good kids who always wanted to play hard, and they have been a credit to the program."

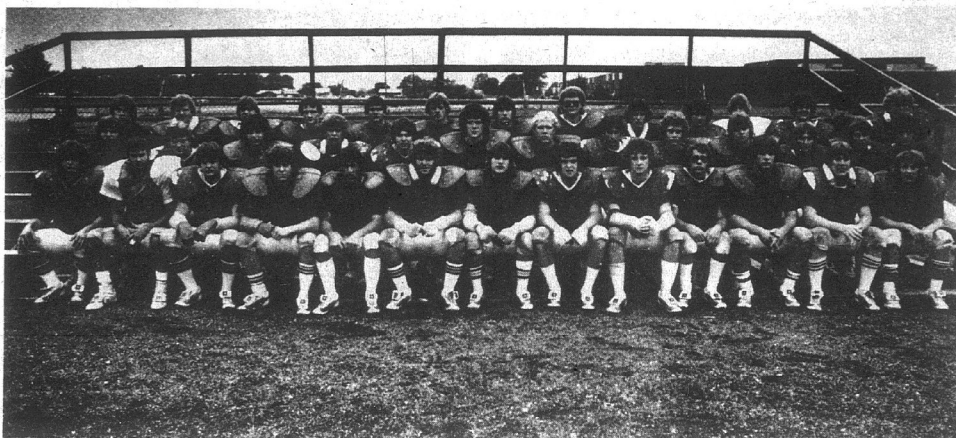

"The tradition began when we came back our first season and won four games in a row after losing our first four. We've only had one really bad season," Wyrostek said.

Some teams may be content to rest on tradition, but not Granite City North. The Steelers won the Gateway East Conference and a playoff berth last season, but North is not content with that.

"It takes more than one year to make a tradition. You have to go after it year after year," Wyrostek said.

That's precisely what the Steelers have in mind. North has a strong offensive and defensive line and the best place kicker in the area.

guard, Jimmy Dean at right tackle, and Paul Ballew and Robert McClew will share the left tackle position.

John Obenhaus and John Randall will join Zimmer at defensive tackle. Daren DePew and Hessler will be at linebacker, and Morris and Dean will be at outside linebacker.

The offensive and defensive lines will have to do their jobs particularly well because the one thing North lacks is speed.

"Last year, we had seven or eight players who could do the 40 in 4.8, but this year we have only three or four who can do it," Wyrostek said.

What North does have is DePew, whose 54 yard field goal last year was a state record. The bad news for opponents is that DePew has improved.

"He's consistently kicking 45-50 yard field goals in practice. When we're close, we're going to try the field goal," Wyrostek said.

Although DePew is also the starting fullback, the offense won't be a one-man show. Barry Watson should start at quarterback and Al Prengel and Sean Wyrostek will start at halfback. Bob Quick and Rujawitz will be tight ends for the Steelers.

"We hope to have a 65-35 mixture of running and passing, but some years, you have to go with more of one thing than another."

John Kindle, Joe Dickie, Quick and Watson will make up the defensive backfield for North.

"We hope some of the young people will come through for us because we have a lot of players going both ways," Wyrostek said.

Warriors

Warrior golfers are youthful, inexperienced

Despite having four returning lettermen, the Granite City High School South golfers are going to have their work cut out for them to remain competitive, according to Boone Chaney, their coach for the last seven years.

Last year, the team won four matches, lost 11 and tied two.

Ken Rapp, a senior, and Randy Thurman and Jeff Pare, both juniors, carry the highest rankings from last year into the new season. All are returning lettermen, as is senior Don Katzman.

However, coach Chaney says, youth and a lack of playing experience could hurt the Warriors. "I'm afraid we will not have enough depth to compete with the better teams," he worries. Optimistically, he adds, "If sophomore John Tackett and Freshman Mike Sturman can shoot in the low 40's, we will be competitive."

Team members, in addition to those named above, are: seniors, Jerry Barnes; sophomores, George Mathenia, Mark Jones, Chris Carden, Mah Laub, George Mathenia and Mark Doniff, and freshmen, Dave Rickey, Jeff Griley, Dan Graff, Alan Gerald and Greg Ambuehl.

The team hosts Alton today in a 4 p.m. match on the links of the Arlington Golf Course, the home field for South. Wednesday, the Warriors will host Collinsville and Thursday they travel to Edwardsville for a 4 p.m. match. Red Bud will host the Warriors Monday, Sept. 20, also at 4 p.m.

Steeler golfers anticipate long, learning year

row are Kevin Schatz, Dave Goff, Frank Hayes and Bill Early. In the back row are Steeler coach Russ Chappell, Chris Coyle, Jeff Gray, Vic Fears and Larry Thompson.

Last year's Gateway East conference champions, Granite City High School North, may not be up to par this fall due to an extremely young team. With practice, coach Russ Chappell is hoping his team will be respectable.

"We'll need help from the younger players. A few freshman coming in have experience and that's encouraging," explained coach Chappell. Chappell will be depending on the younger players for help.

North only has three lettermen returning to the golf course. Bill Early, senior; David Goff, senior and Kevin Schatz, junior are the older golfers. These returnees will be Chappell's biggest assets this season.

"The teams weakest point is that it is young. As far as I know I'll probably only have two seniors and three returning lettermen," Chappell admitted.

Other golfers include Steve Crow, David Warfield, Larry Thompson, Frankie Hayes, Ken Schatz and Anthony Harrell. Chappell found Thompson on the golf course and recruited him.

"If these kids played this summer we could be okay — respectable," Chappell observed.

North golfer's team record is 76-94-4. Chappell has been coaching golf at North for seven years.

This afternoon, the Steelers take on conference rival Edwardsville at Arlington Golf Course, the Steelers' home course. Tee off time is 4 p.m.

Warriors hope poor attitude will 'pass away'

Granite City High School South football coach Jerry McKechnan is "excited" about this year's edition of the Warrior football team.

"We've got some good out this year," McKechnan said. "If we can win early and keep our morale up we should be able to play with anybody."

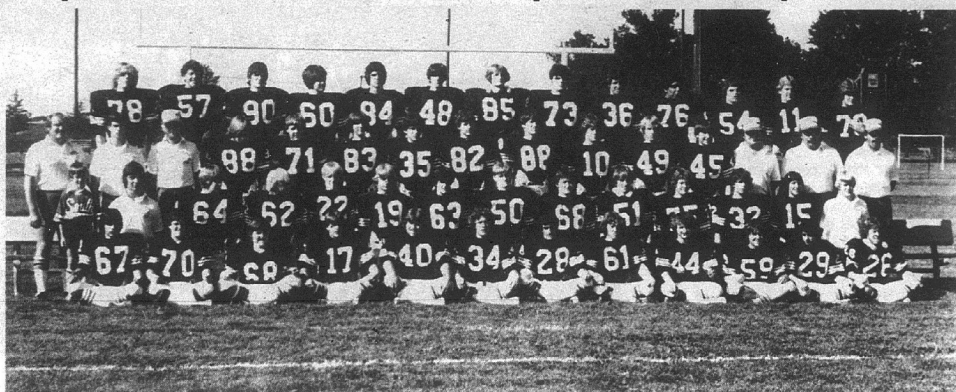

Part of McKechnan's optimism should be attributed to returning quarterback Jon Linhart. Linhart, a senior, is starting his second season as the signal caller. With Linhart leading the Warriors, it's a sure bet the Warriors will be a pass orientated team.

Last year, Linhart passed for 1,345 yards, which puts him up there as a top college prospect.

"Most coaches look to the running game to set up the passing game. We're going to use the passing game to set up the running game. When they think we're going to pass, we're going to run with the ball," McKechnan said.

RETURNING GRIDDERS.

Smith, Ken Portell, Don Hammond, Charles York, Tom Adamitis, and coach Jerry McKechnan. In the third row are John Linhart, Rich Petchulat, John Adams, Dominic Griffin and Jerome Czar.

Wide receivers Tom Adamitis and Rick Mumphord will do most of the receiving for the Warriors. John Frangoulis and Ken Portell will star in the backfield. Adamitis will fill the vacancy of departing senior Rick Daily, while kMumphord will fill in for Joe Schnefke.

David Brown (6-2, 190) at guard, Dominic Griffin (6-1, 215) at center, and Corey McConnell (6-2, 215) and Jerome

Czar (6-3, 240) at tackles will give South a large offensive line. Tri-captain Paul Hitchcock and guard Larry Cornett will give a boost to the line.

Defensively, there's reason to be optimistic too, McKechnan said. "There's some good size there too."

The Warriors are already looking past Belleville East and towards O'Fallon, who they play this Friday in O'Fallon. South's next home game is against Cahokia Oct. 1

Warrior cross country team long on girls

Many girls cross country teams suffer from the lack of experienced personnel, but not Granite City South's team.

On the other hand, the boys' team at South is inexperienced because of the loss of all of the Warriors' top four runners from last season.

It is clear that experience will make a big difference in the outcomes of both the girls and the boys teams in 1982.

"Experience is our biggest strength in the girls and our biggest weakness in the boys," South cross country coach Richard Harmon said.

The girls team should be one of the stronger teams in the area this season. All six of South's qualifiers for the state finals last season, Mary Bisch, Angela Grabowski, Kathy Juhasz, Mary Romine, Michelle Shoemaker and Connie Williamson, return for South.

Bisch and Romine are seniors, Juhasz and Williamson are juniors and Shoemaker and Grabowski are sophomores.

Lora Wiser, a freshman, is an exceptional runner for her age and has broken in as the Warriors' fifth runner. Bisch, Juhasz, Romine and Shoemaker are in the top five.

They're a very, very good girls' team, and a lot of the credit goes to Charlotte Charbonnier, who was our assistant coach last year," Harmon said.

Charbonnier is on leave during the cross country season, and Sam Nesbit, a South graduate, will be the assistant coach this year.

Harmon thinks Belleville East, Belleville West, O'Fallon, East St. Louis Lincoln should be the girls teams to beat this year.

The boys team is not nearly as experienced. The boys only have three returning lettermen: senior Jeff Kraus and juniors Todd Scrum and Gary Earhart.

On the other hand, the Warriors lost Dave McLean, Dave McQuaide, Steve Dumont and Ron Brown—the top four runners—to graduation. Before practice began, Harmon wasn't looking forward to this year.

"I'm usually enthusiastic about coaching, but this summer, I wasn't enthusiastic about the boys team. But when we started practice, the boys were really working hard, and I began getting enthusiastic about the boys' team too," Harmon said.

Besides the lettermen, seniors Wynn Buenger and Curt Smith, juniors Ray Romine and Dave Williams, sophomore Jim Strack and freshman Steve Houston will do most of the running for the boys team.

"This is going to be a rebuilding year for the boys, but I think we can have a good season this year if we work hard. We've got a pretty good attitude," Harmon said.

Harmon thinks O'Fallon, Granite City North, both Belleville schools, Lincoln and East St. Louis (Sr.) will have the best boys teams.

Girls wanted: Apply North cross country team

Pete Robinson, coach of the Granite City North cross country team, is in two difficult situations.

First of all, he would like to have more girls out for Steelers' cross country team. This is the third year of the cross country team, and Robinson is still having a problem finding girls to run.

"The Belleville schools get about 20 girls out for cross country each year and have a hard time finding boys to go out. Here, it's just the opposite. The girls have so many things to do like going out for cheerleading, the flag and drill teams, soccer teams and the volleyball team," Robinson said.

It isn't as if Robinson hasn't tried to get the girls out. He has spoken to the junior high schools and the high school physical education classes to increase interest in the program.

The boys have a less serious — but an important — problem. There are plenty of boys out, but Robinson is looking for a solid fifth man to help make the Steelers' hopes of a strong season a reality.

Jim Robertson, who advanced to the Sectional meet last year as a sophomore, returns this year to be the Steelers' top runner. John Peters, a junior, and Ken Meyer, a senior, will give Robinson a solid top three on the boys' team.

Bill Schaefer should be the fourth man, but three runners are seeking that important fifth spot: junior Ken Kalka and sophomores Darrern Bernaix and Keith Bono.

"Bill could be the key member of the team if he comes through with a competitive season," Robinson said.

Robinson was particularly impressed with Robertson's improvement. "He's been really super for us. He's run our course in 14:22 which is good for early September."

"We should be much stronger than last year, and we have the potential to have an outstanding season," Robinson said. "We're running juniors and seniors this year, while last year we were running sophomores and juniors. A year can make a lot of difference in cross country."

The girls cross country team will consist mainly of sophomores and freshmen. Paula Rozycki, Emily McWhorter and Vicki Schaefer, all sophomores, should be the main runners this year. All three went out for track their freshman year.

Other girls who could help the Steelers are junior Teresa Naler and freshman Dawn Young.

"If we can get a solid bunch of girls going here the next few years, we can get our girls cross country team going," Robinson said.

NORTH RETURNEES. Four members from last year's cross country team return to take their place as leaders on this year's

His bartending talent is real

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — If Ted Danson ever finds acting slow, he might augment his income mixing mean martinis.

In preparation for his role in "Cheers," a new NBC-TV comedy to debut this fall, Ted attended the American Bar Tending School where he graduated second in his class.

"A girl came in first," he notes humbly. "To pass, I had to mix 12 drinks in seven minutes."

While learning to do that, he also had to master the demeanor of a successful bartender.

"I was told not to talk about religion, politics or anything interesting," he says of his learning.

He was also advised that the bartender always has an advantage over the imbiber, "because there's a bar between him and the customer."

Danson underwent the training program, because in "Cheers" he plays the bartender in a sports-oriented bar in Boston.

He's joined by Shelley Long, currently being seen in "Night Shift," who plays a previously sheltered college teaching assistant who has shucked academia to become a cocktail waitress.

"Cheers" may be the show to bring most cheer to NBC this fall, because, with roles played out by a talented ensemble, it has the flavor of "Barney Miller," "Mary Tyler Moore" and "Taxi."

Danson's father was director of Northern Arizona's Museum and Research Center, so the boy grew up in beautiful ponderosa country, playing cowboys and Indians with real Hopi and Navajos.

Danson's acting background includes, among other things, playing Shakespeare in the Park for Joe Papp and playing a lemon chiffon pie box for a television commercial.

As he remembers the occasion, he "marched down a New Jersey street with a whole platoon of fellow pie boxes."

As a soap opera star, he performed in "The Doctors" and "Somerset," while in the feature film, "The Onion Field," he was doomed, bagpipe-playing Officer Ian Campbell.

He notes that odds are against an actor getting to do something creative and fun while making money, but he believes that "Cheers" will give him a chance to exercise his talents in a pleasant atmosphere while earning a few bucks.

"Money's important," he observes, "but acting in a series is hard work, and if they're not having fun, it's not worth it."

Long, daughter of educators, was encouraged by her parents to follow their calling, "because my mother thought teaching was a nice way for a woman to support herself."

However, she wasn't interested in chalk or blackboards, so she eased her way into show business by way of a writing-producing job at an NBC station in Chicago.

She also co-hosted the show to which she was assigned, a magazine-type production called, "Sorting It Out," and for her efforts won three Emmys.

While working in Chicago, Long began performing with the Second City troupe and, through it, was hired to make a pilot for ABC. Nothing came of the pilot, but it led to guest roles in episodic television and to her first feature film, "A Small Circle of Friends."

Les and Glen Charles, who produced and wrote "Phyllis" and "The Bob Newhart Show," are executive producer-writers of "Cheers."

Jim Borrows, whose many directing credits include 75 episodes of "Taxi," is executive producer-director.

The three collaborated to create and develop the series.

CBS still making 'House Calls'?

By JACK MARTIN

HOLLYWOOD — In what is bound to be one of the most unprecedented moves in network programming ever, CBS is contemplating putting the canceled "House Calls" series back on the air.

Seems the network has egg all over its corporate kisser because, since axing the show last spring, the comedy series has yet to be out of the top 10 in the ratings (usually placing second or third). So the powers that be at CBS have been ever-so-diplomatically buttering up the show's popular star Wayne Rogers and his manager-mentor Arthur Gregory, hoping they'll agree to bringing "House Calls" back as a two-hour movie of the week.

Then, of course, they will endeavor to get Rogers and Gregory to agree to bringing the show back again as a weekly series. As we said, this is unprecedented. But very deserved.

JUST MOVE YOUR LIPS DEPARTMENT: Audrey Hepburn is on the very verge of signing to star in yet another movie remake of that old chestnut, "The Merry Widow," to be produced this time out by an Englishman named Terry Pritchard.

But her agent tells me Audrey's not signing for anything until certain unspecified changes are made in Alan Jay Lerner's screenplay. Opera star Placido Domingo's name is being bandied about as the leading man in this fourth version of Franz Lehár's operetta, and both Barbra Streisand and Julie Andrews had previously been mentioned as potential female stars.

Those particular ladies, naturally, can sing and Audrey cannot. So if she does take the role, her voice will be dubbed, just as it was when she played and "sang" Eliza Doolittle in the movie version of another Alan Jay Lerner musical — "My Fair Lady." And she pulled that off. Well, almost.

LOVE NOTES: Warren Beatty hightailed it over to Paris the other night just so he could take top New York covergirl Carol Alt to dinner. When you've got Warren's money (and libido) you can afford such little extravaganzas.

Anyway, Warren and Carol spent their evening at Regine's (the poshest boite in gay Paris) but their relationship, according to Regine herself, isn't any sort of a serious romance.

"Warren says," says Regine, "that he likes to talk to younger women like Carol but when it comes to love, he prefers a woman closer to his own age." Warren is 45.

... Then there's Princess Caroline and tennis star Guillermo Vilas who checked in the other night at the Palace Hotel in Gstaad (that's in Switzerland). And I don't mean for dinner. I mean for a real check-in, unpack, stay-awhile sort of visit.

MORE ROMANCE: And just how do you think Yoko Ono spends a hot summer afternoon in Manhattan?

Well, if last week was at all typical, the Widow Lennon, in a pretty yellow frock, strolled out of her Central Park West apartment with constant companion Sam Habitoy and a bodyguard and walked downtown to the Hit Factory, at 54th and Broadway, where she and late husband John used to record. Then it was another short stroll to the Russian Tea Room on West 57th Street for a long, long lunch. After that, Yoko and Sam (hand in hand) and bodyguard, traipsed eastward on 57th Street to the Festival Theater where they spent the remainder of their afternoon watching the movie "Diner." After that they taxied home.

Now, wasn't that exciting!

WORKING NOTES:

Former Beatle Ringo Starr will play a pirate in producer Graham Chapman's new comedy "Yellow Beard." Ringo replaces punk rock star Adam Ant who dropped out of the picture because he wanted too much money. Ringo's rich enough to work cheap.

... Richard Gere (very hot since the current "An Officer and a Gentleman" became a hot hit) probably will return to Broadway next season opposite Elizabeth Taylor in the revival of Tennessee Williams' "Sweet Bird of Youth" which Liz will produce for her own company.

... But before that Liz will co-star with Richard Burton in a "Love Boat" segment for which the pair of star-crossed lovebirds will be paid $150,000 each for five days' work. Liz and Dick will play a famous theatrical duo taking a second honeymoon cruise. Make that a third honeymoon cruise and we might have a case of art imitating real life.
